THAW WILL FIGHT A DIVORCE SUIT

Says Evelyn Has No Grounds and Gets $6200 a Year From His Family

FIGHTS JEROME WITH SPIRIT ON WITNESS STAND

Still Insists He Was "Legally" Insane But Not "Medically" Responsible For Crime

WHITE PLAINS, July 30.—Court adjourned at 4:15 p. m. until Monday at 10 a. m. Jerome was reading old evidence when court adjourned and he said he had "pages" more.

WHITE PLAINS, N. J., July 30.—Neither Harry K. Thaw, one of his counsel, Charles Morchauer, showed much interest today in a report that Evelyn Thaw intended to begin a suit for divorce as soon as the present proceedings closed.

"It is to first intention we have received of such a suit," said Mr. Morchauer, "and we have received no notice at all from Mrs. Thaw or her attorneys."

Mr. Morchauer said that so far as he knew Thaw had no intention of suing for separation or divorce.

"Will he contest his wife's suit?" the attorney was asked.

"Most certainly if she brings it," said Mr. Morchauer.

"Mrs. Thaw has no ground for divorce," he continued. "She has always been well treated. At present she is receiving $6200 a year from her husband."

Whipping Girls

It is alleged Mrs. Thaw will base her suit on the violation of the present trial regarding Thaw's alleged conduct at the house of Susan Merrill.

Mr. Morchauer called attention to the fact that Thaw had denied these stories. "As for the Mrs. Thaw said to have been introduced there as his wife," said Mr. Morchauer, "that part of the story has not been substantiated."

Although District Attorney Jerome announced at the close of yesterday's session of the court hearing that he was through with Thaw, he recalled him to the stand this morning.

"Two or three more questions which Jerome asked yesterday might still have for the relation proved to be a long string."

The district attorney started his examination along the lines that thus far he has yielded his wife the best results.

It proved into Thaw's own story of his mental condition and contrasted his answers with those of the fourteen witnesses who at various times pronounced him insane.

Replies to Jerome

Thaw, clinging to his oft-repeated phrase that he was not "medically insane," although he might have been "legally" so when he killed White.

Jerome was pained with the various opinions of the experts, but Thaw seemed to have them just as accurately fixed in his mind and one or twice corrected the prosecutor. He admitted that some of the physicians might have been in error, he said, but "mistaken" time, he declared, pressed with him a distorted verdict.

The court was even warmer than yesterday and Thaw had worked with his counsel until 10:30 last night examining a bundle of Jerome's documentary evidence which he expected to have explained today. Nevertheless he presented the air of a man whose task is over, a calm confidence that showed he was satisfied with his previous showing and assurance that he was a match for the district attorney.

Criticized Experts

Thaw asked for the reports of several experts and pointed out several alleged inconsistencies in their testimony.

"Well, began Jerome, 'there were all these trained specialists who thought you were insane.'"

"Not all of them," interrupted Thaw. "I don't think Dr. Hamilton and Dr. White did."

Thaw said the alienists thought he suffered from "defective reason," and Jerome jumped at his chance.

"What did they mean by 'defective reason'?"

"I think the term explains itself," said Thaw.

"What do you think it means?"

Thaw looked down, and was unable to find a word to frame his reply. He seemed relieved when Jerome branched to the decision of Judge

FORTY MINERS ARE OVERCOME BY GAS; THREE DEAD

PITTSBURGH, Kan., July 30.—Forty miners were overcome by gas in the Central Coal and Coal Company's mine No. 3 here today. All but fifteen were quickly placed out of danger. Twelve were seriously injured, three perhaps fatally hurt. Nearly all are foreigners.

The fatally hurt are George Zimmerman, Jem Shoop and M. Foster.

CHARGE OF ATTEMPTED MURDER ENDS IN A KISSING BEE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The sensational love divorce case where an alleged attempt to show an alleged attempt on the part of Judge Louis Love, a carpenter to poison his wife, Victoria, by means of a headache powder came to an end today. The couple kissed and made up during the progress of the trial some time since, but the matter has been still pending until this morning when the wife petitioned the Superior Court for its dismissal.

Cruel Wife Turns His Hair Gray

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Do you see this white hair, Judge? It is the effect of my wife's treatment," declared Alfred Lobell, a clerk, 28 years old, pointing to show locks that might have adorned the head of a man of 70. Judge Van Nostrand listened to the complaint against Alma Lobell, the defendant, whom her husband accused her of having beaten and otherwise mistreated him and finally granted him a divorce.

W. E. Cook, a lawyer six feet tall and robust in appearance, told with tears in his eyes of the inhuman treatment accorded him by his wife, Alma, quite a diminutive personage, who, he averred, beat him up, threw a stove lighter at him, and dug her nails into his flesh. He, too, was granted relief by means of a divorce decree.

To End Races At Tia Juana

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Horse racing on the track at Tia Juana, Lower California, under a rule across the international boundary line from San Diego, Cal., will be prohibited after October 1st, in accordance with an amendment to the regulations on gambling made by the Mexican government.

This action was the result of representations made by the United States in a response to petition from citizens of San Diego and Los Angeles. The location of a track at Tia Juana followed the prosecution of the first prohibiting race track gambling by the California legislature.

Lieut. Wall to Succeed Conboy

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Although former Captain of Police Michael Joseph Conboy secured a writ of review from Judge Van Nostrand, directing the Police Commissioners to appear and show cause why the Conboy should not be set aside, he requested to see forth in his petition that the commission should be restrained from naming his successor. This oversight left the captaincy open and at the regular meeting of the commission, Lieutenant Eugene R. Wall was promoted to the vacant captaincy.

AMBULANCE AND RUNAWAY IN MAD RACE

FALLS FROM SEAT AND GRABS HARNESS

Hospital Patrol Sees Accident and Starts Hotly in Pursuit

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Hanging desperately to the harness, W. J. Barry, a butcher of 1625 Eleventh avenue, was dragged through half a mile of crowded streets this afternoon by a team of four maddened horses, before he finally fell and was crushed beneath the wheels of his wagon.

A hospital ambulance raced with the wagon for ten blocks, and hardly had the nervous fingers released their clutch than the attendants had placed Barry in the ambulance and were rushing him to the Potosi hospital.

Fatally Hurt

All his ribs were broken, his chest caved in and no hope is being held out for his recovery.

Barry was driving his meat wagon when at the corner of Twenty-second and Potrero the wagon struck a rut in the street and he was thrown from the high seat. In an attempt to save himself, Barry grabbed the harness as he fell and clung desperately.

Without a driver the four horses became frightened and dashed at a high rate of speed down Twenty-second street.

Race With Runaway

As they passed the Potosi hospital the attendants saw the man's predicament and immediately a thrilling race between the hospital ambulance and the runaway was in progress.

Barry clung to his hold until his strength gave out and he fell beneath the heavy wheels.

Fifteen Years for Youthful Burglars

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Edward McKee was sentenced by Superior Judge Conlan this morning to fifteen years in the penitentiary on a charge of burglary in the first degree. McKee had been convicted of having robbed the store of Morris Baum at 551 Valencia street some weeks ago.

Roosevelt and King Made LL.D.'s

LEIPZIG, July 30.—The University of Leipzig which is celebrating the fifty-centenary of its foundation, today conferred the degree of LL. D. on Theodore Roosevelt. Among others to receive degrees were King Frederick of Saxony and Count Ferdinand Zepelin, aeronaut.

EARTHQUAKE IN MEXICO KILLS 20

Shocks Were Widespread and Severe All Over the Country --Many Buildings Down

HALF A TOWN IS RAZED TO THE EARTH

Loss of Life Seems to Be Confined at Present Among Poorer Class

MEXICO CITY, July 30.—Two severe earthquake shocks occurred here this morning at 4:20 and 4:25 o'clock. Four persons were killed and several injured. Some dwellings in the poor quarter were destroyed. No damage was done in the other parts of the city. The shocks have terrified the people.

Telegrams from various parts of the republic indicate that the earthquakes were widespread and severe.

Property Loss Small

The property damage here is insignificant. Mostly shacks were destroyed. The deaths were among the poorer classes and a child. Some old cathedral walls were cracked, as were some pavements. The shock was felt for over 100 miles.

No deaths have as yet been reported from other cities. The squares and plazas are filled with praying people.

There was no loss of life in the American colony.

Half City Destroyed

MEXICO CITY, July 30.—The Federal Telegraph Company has just established communication with Acapulco by the roundabout way of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. The first message received read as follows:

"The entire lower half of this city has been destroyed. There have been many casualties. The branch here of the National Bank is in ruins. The cashier is mortally injured."

Dismiss Charge Against Edison

Frank Edison, the Filibuster barber held at the County Jail for alleged improper conduct towards twelve-year-old Maud Maine, has been released from custody.

After investigating the case personally, Sheriff Barnett arrived at the conclusion that Edison was not guilty of maltreating the child, but, on the other hand, was the victim of a conspiracy on the part of the girl's sister, Mary J. Edison, to do him and his wife injury for the part Mrs. Edison took in the divorce proceedings recently brought by William & George against his wife.

TARIFF BILL IS AGAIN BEFORE HOUSE

Payne Loudly Cheered When He Submits Conferees' Report

(For full report on Tariff see page 13 of today's TRIBUNE.)

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Back again to the place where it originated the tariff bill, accompanied by the report of the conferees, was up today for consideration in the House. There was apparent a feeling of relief that the long-drawn-out contest was about to come to a close.

The attendance, by both Republicans and Democrats of the House, was good, while the galleries were well filled. The heat in the chamber was intense, but so great was the interest in the tariff bill that no one seemed to notice it.

Republican Applause

The Republicans broke into loud applause when Chairman Payne presented the conference report.

Under the rule it went over until tomorrow for printing in the record. Again the Republicans applauded when Payne said he hoped to dispose of the report before the House adjourned tomorrow. Not a single voice was heard in objection to a motion by him that for the purpose of giving ample time for discussion the House should meet tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

Opposing Views

It was fully expected that Chairman Payne would make an official statement in connection with the report, but he postponed it until tomorrow after having first explained that he had prepared a personal statement. This he asked to have printed as an official document, but owing to objection from the Democratic side he was unsuccessful in that respect. It is probable Clark will prepare a statement showing the Democratic view and that the two views will be printed together as one document.

Dismiss Charge Against Edison

Frank Edison, the Filibuster barber held at the County Jail for alleged improper conduct towards twelve-year-old Maud Maine, has been released from custody.

After investigating the case personally, Sheriff Barnett arrived at the conclusion that Edison was not guilty of maltreating the child, but, on the other hand, was the victim of a conspiracy on the part of the girl's sister, Mary J. Edison, to do him and his wife injury for the part Mrs. Edison took in the divorce proceedings recently brought by William & George against his wife.

Barcelona Revolutionists Have Surrendered and Are Being Courtmartialled and Executed

Twenty-Three Buildings Have Been Destroyed by the Artillery and the List of the Dead Is Said to Be Appalling

MADRID, July 30.—Special dispatches received here shortly after noon today from Melilla say the Spanish cruiser Numancia is shelling the heights of Mount Guruga which is swarming with Moors.

Preaching a Holy War

CEUTA, Morocco, July 30.—The natives in the region surrounding this seaport are preparing to join their fighting brethren on the heights before Melilla. A holy war is being preached from Ceuta to Moulmuga and the whole country is aflame with fanaticism. The positions of the Moors on Mount Guruga, where 30,000 warriors are concentrated, are considered impregnable.

Situation Grave in Catalonia

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, July 30.—(Via Hendaye, France). Official reports received here today from Madrid indicate that the situation in the Catalan provinces is still grave. The agitation in the Biscayan provinces is increasing.

Executing Revolutionist Leaders

MADRID, July 30.—The captain general of Barcelona has telegraphed to the general staff at Madrid that the revolutionists have surrendered and that he is now the master of the situation. The number of victims as a result of the fighting in the streets is very high.

Twenty-three buildings were destroyed by the artillery. The leaders of the rebels are now being tried by military court-martial and summarily executed.

Quiet Now in Figueroas

CEREBERE, France, Spanish Frontier, July 30.—Order has been re-established at Figueroas. The rioters are being arrested in large batches and led off to prison. Nevertheless many revolutionists have escaped and are making their way to the frontier.

Summary of the Spanish Situation [At This Writing]

SPANISH crisis at home and abroad continues to present many alarming features, with Barcelona still in the throes of a revolutionary movement and an army of 30,000 Moors pressing Spain's defeated and exhausted forces in Morocco.

The reports from Barcelona are ominously meager and from roundabout quarters, but the revolutionary movement appears to have passed its climax.

Revolution Checked

Government troops are now reported to have the upper hand. The artillery has been used with merciless effect, driving the remnants to outlying sections. The scattered fragments of information, coming through Madrid and frontier points, are doubtless censored and lacking in exactness, but they give details of bloody conflict between 10,000 armed revolutionists and the Spanish artillery and cavalry.

Fear the Pretender

From many interior points come reports of riot and incendiarism. But the movement is without apparent central organization or a leader. In the north there are fears that Don Jaime, the Carlist leader, will take advantage of the situation by renewing the Carlist movement against the republic.

A late dispatch from Madrid announces that the captain general at Barcelona telegraphs to the government that he is now master of the situation, the revolutionists having surrendered.

Spanish warships have come to the relief of the defeated army in Morocco and are reported to be shelling the Moorish forces. The battlefield where the Spaniards lost 3000 is a vast graveyard and the Spanish medical and hospital equipment is demoralized by unpreparedness for its big task.

KING EDWARD NOT TO INTERFERE

LONDON, July 30.—The Associated Press is officially authorized to state that there is no truth in the rumor that King Edward is asking France and Germany to intervene in Spain, nor in another rumor that it was suggested that a mixed force of British, French and German troops should be sent to co-operate with the Spaniards in Morocco.

QUEEN VICTORIA MAY BE IN FRANCE

PARIS, July 30.—There is no confirmation that Queen Victoria of Spain and the Queen Mother Christians have left San Sebastian for Bayonne, France, but there would be no surprise if such a trip had been taken, as the members of the royal family are constantly making automobile trips from San Sebastian to the nearby points in Spain and France, including Bayonne, Biarritz and Pau.

BARCELONA SAID TO BE PERFECT HELL NOW

BARCELONA (no date), via Corbiera, France, July 30.—Barcelona has been a perfect hell. Half the population is terrorized and the other half mad with blood. The troops of the garrison, amid shouts of approval from the mob, repeatedly refused to fire on the people and the work of repression fell upon the police and civil guard.

They charged the revolutionists and used their firearms freely everywhere, but numbers were against them.

As this dispatch is sent the streets are in possession of the barricaded insurgents. The destruction of property has been great. Barcelona is completely isolated and running short of food.

Catalonian Fury

CERBERE, France, July 30.—All the reports received from Spain confirm the terrible fury of the women throughout Catalonia. At Barcelona they fought behind the barricades with men, urging them to fight to the death. Everywhere they resisted

HENEY'S SALARY GRABS ARE PUZZLING

Next Congress May Investigate His Connection With the Department of Justice

PAYMENTS DO NOT EXPLAIN SERVICE RENDERED

Prosecutor a White Elephant That the Administration Would Like to Be Rid of (Special Dispatch to the Portland Oregonian).

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—If interest can again be awakened in the Heney case when Congress reassembles next December, it is more than likely that a special congressional committee will be appointed to probe into the employment of Mr. Heney, his work as a special prosecutor for the Department of Justice, and his remuneration, made from time to time, under direction of the Department of Justice.

The department of Justice has always been secretive about the employment and payment of Francis J. Heney. It was only after a House Committee on appropriations made the demand that the Department submit a bare statement of amounts paid to Heney, and the dates. That statement contained nothing more; no explanation of the services rendered, no explanation as to the amount of compensation allowed in various cases, on information as to the length of time Mr. Heney was at work supposedly earning the various sums turned over to him.

Money Heney Received

The statements, as stated by the Department of Justice, are as follows:

Fiscal year 1904—
July 16, 1904 .....	$ 5,000
March 10, 1905 .....	4,000
Fiscal year 1905—
March 10, 1905 .....	3,500
August 10, 1905 .....	4,615
Fiscal year 1906—
August 10, 1905 .....	325
February 13, 1906 .....	7,500
August 24, 1906 .....	7,000
August 9, 1907 .....	6,000
March 2, 1908 .....	8,000
Fiscal year 1907—
December 26, 1907 .....	5,000
July 6, 1908 .....	10,000
January 21, 1909 .....	5,000
Total .....	$85,000

This does not include $4175 paid to Heney while he was assistant district attorney, and later district attorney for the State of Oregon, the $4175 being the regular salary of the respective offices he filled during the time of his employment in such capacity. Thus, it appears, the total emoluments received by Mr. Heney amount to $89,175. The amounts which Mr. Heney asked for have never been given out.

$35,000 a Year Rate

There are men in Congress who believe that the legal services of Mr. Heney in the various land fraud cases in which he has appeared were not worth $35,000 to the government. While this employment extends over a period of more than three years, it is the understanding in Congress that not all of this time was devoted to the government cases, and that in point of fact Mr. Heney was really serving the Department of Justice not over two years or thereabouts. That would make his compensation in the neighborhood of $35,000 a year.

But it is not alone because the amount is regarded by many as excessive that an investigation is desired, the prime reason is because of the manner in which deferred payments have been made to Mr. Heney. According to the record, he retired from active Federal employ early

In January, 1907. Since the date of his resignation he has been paid $33,000 and these deferred payments were strung out as follows:

August 31, 1907 .....	$ 5,000
December 26, 1907 .....	5,000
March 2, 1908 .....	8,000
July 6, 1908 .....	10,000
January 21, 1909 .....	5,000

Gives Receipt, Draws Pay

It is a little puzzling to know why a man who severed his connection with the Federal service in January, 1907, should be paid material lump sums every few months for a period of two years thereafter. Representative Tawney, chairman of the House appropriations committee, makes the statement that Heney was paid $23,000 during the fiscal year 1909, but rendered the government no service during that time. That statement is supported by the chief clerk of the Department of Justice in his testimony before the appropriations committee.

But there is still another reason why the House wants an investigation. According to second hand information, which was laid generally before members, Mr. Heney, after being paid a total sum of $54,175, gave to the attorney general a receipt in full for all amounts due him as prosecuting officer in the various land fraud cases in which he has been engaged. After giving that receipt he performed no known service for the government; this is stated by this same official of the Department of Justice in his testimony before the appropriations committee. Yet, after having received in full, Heney, on July 6, 1908, received a $10,000 payment, and on January 21, last, was paid another $5,000, or $15,000 in excess of what he himself admitted was due him when he gave his receipt in full.

Heney's Pull Puzzles

Senators and Representatives who have undertaken to probe into this matter say they have never been able to get a satisfactory or definite explanation of why these belated payments were made to Mr. Heney, especially the $15,000 paid him after he had closed his account with the government. To all inquiries the answer is given that these payments were made on account of services rendered by Heney before he resigned in January, 1907. There is no effort on the part of the Department to explain what these services were; when they were rendered; what they accomplished, or anything about them. Always the answer comes, "For services previously rendered." That is all that has been brought to light thus far.

In this same connection it developed during the recent discussion in the House of Representatives that Mr. Heney is still, in a measure, connected with the Department of Justice. Just what his connection is is not clear. It seems to be understood that he is, in a way, retained in an advisory capacity, and later on is to prosecute the Blinger Hermann and J. N. Williamson cases. Inquiry at the Department of Justice brings forth the statement that Heney is not paid for his advisory services—that is, is not paid any fixed salary. Upon the completion of a case he will submit his account, and that account will be paid, if approved by the attorney general. The inference conveyed is that Heney will not receive further compensation from the Department unless he again takes up and prosecutes some one or more of the long standing cases with which he has been associated. If he does conduct the prosecution in the Hermann case or the trial of the Williamson case, he will be paid; otherwise, he will receive no further compensation. But even this statement is not made officially, and so far as the committees of Congress have been able to discover, there is no recorded assurance from the attorney general that Heney must work for whatever money he receives hereafter.

Wickersham's Attitude

However, in one of the speeches he made in the House, Representative Tawney stated that Heney had been paid nothing since Mr. Wickersham became attorney general, and he felt convinced that he would be paid nothing by Mr. Wickersham unless he rendered real service. In so many words, he said that Heney would not, by this administration, be paid for work he did not perform.

In view of the fact that Mr. Tawney had a conference with the attorney general before making that statement in the House, it is reasonable to assume that he spoke by authority.

In the last administration, Francis J. Heney was a favorite. His influence with President Roosevelt was great; his power over Secretary Hitchcock was complete, and he had the backing of Attorney General Bonaparte. It was Bonaparte who made the deferred payments to Heney after he had closed his accounts.

Just how Heney stands with this administration is still in some doubt. Public men who have talked with the attorney general have come away with the impression that Mr. Wickersham has not the same high regard for Heney that was entertained by his predecessor. It is well known that subordinate officials of the Department of Justice do not think or speak well of Heney. It may therefore be reasonably concluded that Heney is no longer held in the highest regard by the Department of Justice. His methods, both in court and before grand juries, are frowned upon, and it is understood that this opinion is shared, to some extent, at least, by the attorney general as well.

Taft Fearsto Drop Heney

Furthermore, President Taft is said to have expressed dissatisfaction with Heney's methods. It is said that he would like to see the government finally sever its relations with him. But there is just one thing that prevents the curtailment of Heney's services. Heney is a survivor of the Roosevelt administration; it is commonly known that President Roosevelt believed in Heney and regarded him highly. Mr. Heney's name has long been associated with land fraud prosecutions. In view of the state of public mind, if this administration, at this time, should abruptly drop Heney and announce that he would not again be employed to prosecute any land fraud cases, the cry would go up that Taft is breaking away from the Roosevelt policies—he does not propose to continue the prosecution of land thieves—he is going to let the grafters have full sway. And more to the same effect.

Men well versed in the inside of things in this administration say that but for this prospect, Francis J. Heney would be cut off from all connection with the Department of Justice, not again to be employed under the Taft administration. In their judgment, Mr. Heney is a white elephant on the hands of the administration—would gladly lose but for the unfavorable comment that might arise should he follow his personal inclinations.

HUMANE BUREAU TO HAVE NEW HEADQUARTERS

Members of the commission in charge of the Catholic Humane Bureau met yesterday afternoon for the purpose of extending the scope of the bureau and discussing the proper steps to be taken to this end. An important feature of the meeting was that the women pledged themselves to interview prominent citizens with a view to obtaining a new board of directors, and also getting in touch with the various Catholic societies on this side of the bay.

It is the ultimate purpose of the organization to embrace many lines of work, including settlement activities, boys and girls' clubs and educational congresses for instruction of workers in charitable lines, and principally the consideration of the cases of dependent and delinquent children. The plan of securing a house for the headquarters of the bureau was discussed, and was regarded favorably by the majority of those present as affording the amount of space necessary for the different activities. The committee will immediately get to work to raise the necessary funds for the launching of the enterprise.

Among those present were Miss Kate F. Byrne, secretary of the commission; Mrs. H. S. Knapp, Miss Katherine Maher, Miss Mary Carr, Mrs. M. Barrett, Mrs. Mary Halton and Mrs. Katherine Kings.

PRESIDENT ASSURES
KNOWLAND HE WILL PAY OAKLAND VISIT

Mayor Mott today received the following letter from Congressman R. Knowland relative to President Taft's visit to Oakland:
Washington, D. C.
July 14, 1909.
Hon. Frank K. Mott, Oakland, California.

My Dear Mr. Mott:
Replying to your favor of the 18th inst. will state that Senator Perkins and I have taken up the matter with President Taft of having him visit Oakland, and he told me this morning that he did not think we need worry over the matter, as he surely expected to include Oakland.

He said he had heard a great deal about the wonderful growth of the city.

within recent years. He mentions the name of a friend of his who had made considerable money in Oakland in real estate.

If everything goes as now seems probable I will be leaving here in about a week for California. It has been a long, tiresome sleep, and will never be so thankful to again enter the great State of California as I will after spending a good part of the summer in this terrible heat.

Very truly yours,
J. B. KNOWLAND.

BAR AND BENCH MEET AT FEAST

Garret McEnerney Host and Justice McKenna Guest of Honor at Luncheon

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Garret W. McEnerney was the host at a luncheon at the St. Francis Hotel yesterday afternoon, given in honor of Associate Justice Joseph McKenna of the United States supreme court. Over fifty guests were present, including the justices of the supreme court of the State, Judges Cooper and Kerrigan of the Court of Appeal and Judge Coffey of the superior court. Governor General James F. Smith of the Philippines, Chief Justice Beatty of the State supreme court, and Associate Justices Henshaw, Angellotti, Shaw, Sloss, Lorigan and Melvin; United States Judges Morrow and Van Fleet.

Congratulates Guest

Before the luncheon was served McEnerney made a short speech, congratulating the guest of honor on the distinguished services the latter had rendered the country as a justice of the supreme court, and extending him a hearty welcome to his visit to his native State.

Justice McKenna responded in a few modest words, thanking McEnerney for his expressions of esteem. He said the State of California might well be proud of the members of its bar. Ever since a court was first established in San Francisco, said the justice, the local bar had been distinguished for its strength, power and eloquence of its members. There was no other speechmaking.

Those at Luncheon

Following are the names of those who were present:

F. W. Henshaw, M. C. Sloss, Justice Shaw, W. G. Lorigan, F. M. Angellotti, Frank A. Melvin, Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of California.

J. A. Cooper, Presiding Justice of the Court of Appeal, First District of California.

Resented Criticism Of His First Wife

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—In a somewhat remarkable cross complaint filed this morning by William A. Bader, proprietor of the St. Francis Cafe, and a wealthy citizen, he denies many of the allegations contained in the divorce suit instituted by his wife, Carrie Bader. She accused him of cruelty, declared that he had threatened her life, and kept her awake at night quarreling with her. These assertions he denies absolutely, but admits that he called her "a fat cow." He maintains, however, that this epithet was used by him only after she had made disparaging remarks about his deceased first wife.

CHOSEN DELEGATES.

SAN RAFAEL, July 30.—At a meeting held here Mrs. Merle Malone, Mrs. Mabel Smith and Mrs. Minnie Emerald were elected delegates from Novo Council No. 104, Degree of Pocahontas, to the great council, which will be held at Redlands in August.

At the meeting, District Deputy Great Pocahontas Mrs. Merle Malone installed the following officers: Mabel R. Smith, prophetess; Alice G. Ward, Pocahontas; Mauricia Coleman, Weonah; Harvey E. Smith, Powhatan; Annie Hoover, keeper of records; Lottie Yagerleiner, keeper of wampum; Velma Van Ness, musician; Margaret Lunny, first scout; Rae Stebbins, second scout; Ella Cozad, first runner; Ada Lake, second runner.

YOUTH MADE GOOD HIS BAD CHECKS

Brother of Young Winters Rescues Him From the Hands of the Law

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Emmet T. Winters, the 18-year-old youth who was arrested yesterday on complaint of J. Chandler, manager of the St. James Hotel, and charged with passing a fictitious check for $10 in payment of his room rent, was released by Judge Shore, all this morning, the hotel keeper refusing to prosecute, owing to the fact that the boy's brother had made good to him his pecuniary loss.

On the stand Winters stated that he was the son of a wealthy mining man and that he was a student at Santa Clara College, which he had left a month ago on account of his poor eyesight. He explained that when he gave the check to the hotel man he expected his father to the hotel man he expected his father would send money to the Swedish-American Bank, on which the paper was drawn, before it was presented for payment.

BROKEN ACTOR CONFESSES THEFT

Is Held to Answer Before Superior Court on Charge of Burglary

George Francis, gentleman burglar, broken down actor, and confessed thief, was held to answer by Judge Samuel this morning for trial before the superior court on a charge of burglary committed in the home of Vincent Lullah, 1615 Ninth street. Francis did not make any defense but was willing to let matters take their course.

According to the story he tells the police he was unable to get employment as an actor, and consequently turned burglar to raise enough money to go East, where he has an aged mother and a wife.

In all Francis has confessed to ten or more burglaries.

Heney and Mitchell--A Contrast

By the methods which have made him notorious, Heney convicted the late Senator John H. Mitchell of a felony offense. The charge against Mitchell was that he received half of a fee paid his law partner for getting the Interior Department to act favorably to clients in land matters. Senator Mitchell exerted his influence to have the action taken. He was convicted on the testimony of his partner (given under an immunity contract) that the fee was divided. The amount said to have been paid Mitchell was $2000, and the proof of the payment rested on the unsupported statement of a man who was trying to swear his son out of a penitentiary term. While holding the office of Assistant District Attorney Heney received as private compensation from Rudolph Spreckels the sum of $23,828.28.

In what respect does Heney's action differ from Mitchell's? Mitchell was accused of selling his Senatorial influence to private parties, and the proof of it was that he accepted part of a fee paid his partner for services he was enabled to render through Mitchell. Besides the $23,828.28 Heney received directly, Spreckels paid his two law partners $26,200 and $13,400 respectively for assisting in the prosecutions instigated and directed by Spreckels.

The law designates as a bribe any money paid by a private person to a public official for the performance of an official act. Over forty checks drawn by Spreckels to Heney's personal order constitute one of the exhibits in the Calhoun case. They tell a story of private payment for the performance of official acts that is acknowledged. On the witness stand Spreckels stated that the money was intended as compensation in the form of office expenses. What distinguishes it from a bribe? In what particular, legal or moral, does this money payment to Heney differ from the fee alleged to have been divided between the Oregon Senator and his partner? The facts cannot be dismissed by hurling charges against others, or saying corrupt motives prompt mention of them.

Heney's financial dealings with the government and the Contra Costa Water Company show his greed for money and his lack of scruple in getting it. The judgment of an Arizona court convicting him of improper conduct with jurymen empaneled to try a case in which he appeared as attorney and his killing of an unarmed man in Tucson illustrate his moral character. Events and disclosures in court discredit his veracity.

However, he has his admirers who reason in accordance with the theory of those zealous Protestants that all the crimes of Henry VIII were justified if not made actually virtuous acts by his opposition to the Pope!

Biddle on Harbor Improvement.

Taken all in all, the address delivered by Lieutenant-Colonel John Biddle before the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday night on Oakland harbor was quite friendly to this city. But while admitting the splendid possibilities of the harbor and the immense benefit commerce will ultimately derive from it, he plainly informed the chamber that the expenditure of more money by the government than has already been appropriated for channel dredging depends upon the utilization of the facilities now available for commerce by the city and others occupying the harbor frontage. Only a small portion of this frontage is now utilized to the present depth of the channel—twenty-five feet—which, he remarked, will admit into the harbor at high tide the largest draft vessel entering the Golden Gate. To make it a perfect harbor, however, he admitted it should be able to allow the largest vessel to enter and depart at any stage of the tide.

According to the United States engineer's estimate the government has spent $3,500,000 in Oakland improvement, but the city has not been idle during the thirty years over which this expenditure has been spread, for he quoted from a joint legislative report of March, 1907, that the city has spent in dredging and dock construction $1,050,000 or nearly one-third as much as the Federal government. Oakland, he admits, has one of the finest harbors in the world; it is well situated for extensive commerce; with large docks and plenty of water, its business interests will abnormally increase, and that inasmuch as San Francisco has about used up all its available frontage, there can be no doubt that in time to come Oakland will receive all the commerce of the western coast. It rests with Oakland, however, to show its appreciation of what the government has done up to date to insure further favors, is the intimation running between the lines throughout the address. When that is done the easier lines on which commerce seeks a channel until that is done. Yet it is worthy of note that San Pedro and Wilmington harbor has cost the government for breakwater construction and dredging a sum much larger than it has spent in Oakland harbor improvements; and although, according to Colonel Biddle's own showing, the southern coast harbor has only one-third the commerce Oakland possesses, which now ranges from 2,500,000 to 4,000,000 tons per annum, it is proposed to deepen the channel there to thirty feet. The question naturally arises: Why should Oakland harbor, with treble the commerce of Wilmington and San Pedro harbor has, and with infinitely greater advantages for the larger commerce that is developing, be content with twenty-five feet of water at low tide? If giving the southern harbor thirty feet of water is favored because Los Angeles is planning to spend millions in harbor improvements, in the event that city gets control of the port, why should not Oakland, which is also planning to spend many millions in piers and docks of the most durable and permanent character, receive equal consideration? If the argument is good for one it is good for the other. The gratifying feature, however, in Colonel Biddle's talk to the chamber is that he is ready to help us out when we prove in good faith our disposition to help ourselves.

It is probably mere suspicion that the German Kaiser has had a hand in inciting the Moors to drive the Spaniards out of Africa, but even if German intrigue has no part in the present conflict, the attitude Germany assumed when the Delcasse ministry effected the rapprochement between France and England with respect to Northern Africa is largely the cause of the effort of the new Sultan of Morocco to recover the strip of Rif coast held by Spain. Germany's protest against a French protectorate over Morocco has encouraged the Moors not only to shake off all assumption of foreign control, but to recover the territory wrested from them centuries ago by the Spaniards. The spirit of Pan-Islam also plays a part in the struggle. It is a war for Moslem independence from Christian domination, hence all Northern Africa is in sympathy with the effort of the tribesmen to expel the Spaniards. France's firm grip on Algeria and Tunis prevents any open manifestation of hostility to Christian rule in those provinces, but it is quite likely that the desert tribes in the French possessions are giving aid and comfort to the Moors in their struggle with Spain. It is the crescent against the cross, the followers of the Prophet being arrayed against the invader more because he is a Christian than because he is a foreigner.

Oakland's Discovery Abroad.

Commenting upon the turn of the tide of travel from Los Angeles toward Oakland and neighboring communities on the eastern bay shore as editorially discussed in yesterday's TRIBUNE, a prominent citizen remarked the tide is flowing not only from Los Angeles and other cities in Southern California, but it is direct from the Eastern States. "A friend of mine," he added, "was very recently compelled to wait nine days to secure a Pullman berth from Pittsburg to Oakland."

The significance of such an incident cannot be overestimated. It demonstrates conclusively that Oakland is not only permanently on the map, but that it is recognized as the city of all others in the United States which today presents the greatest opportunities for profitable investment in the ordinary lines of business, for the location of manufacturing industries, for home-making in an incomparable climate and for all descriptions of realty. A Salt Lake City capitalist who, this week, paid $125,000 in cash for a block of land at the southeast corner of Twelfth street and Franklin, for example, says that he has invested $500,000 cash in Oakland business property of late, and he has not repented a single investment, for the reason that every piece of Oakland property he has bought is yielding him a good interest on his money.

One of the curious and at the same time suggestive facts is that outsiders have been the real discoverers of Oakland as an exceptionally attractive place for investment. A prominent Chicago real estate dealer whose attention was accidentally drawn to a comparative showing of the status of Oakland among the leading cities of the United States published in THE TRIBUNE Annual recently admitted that when he read the statement it made such a deep impression upon him that he investigated for himself, verified the statement and as a result frankly confessed that, in his judgment, Oakland presents better opportunities for profitable investment than any other large city in the country.

The fact is that while others have discovered Oakland, we have not yet fully made the discovery ourselves—that is, we have not yet reached that point in mental development where we have a proper appreciation of the value of the realty we possess. For over a year past most of the money invested in Oakland realty has come from the outside—that is, it is not Oakland capital locked up in safe deposit boxes and in savings banks that has been drawn upon for investment, but the stranger from without the gates of the city has been the quick discoverer of Oakland's future possibilities and the prospects of their early realization. He has been alert to the opportunity and freely backed his judgment and his faith with his money. What is more important, he is in no danger of being disappointed in the ultimate result. What other city in the United States which is the deepwater ocean terminus of four transcontinental railroads whose tracks touch a perfectly landlocked harbor bringing ocean-going craft and car together, with a resident population of 235,000 and a trading population of over 500,000 people contiguous to it; with scores of important manufacturing industries located within it; possessing a genial and invigorating climate, picturesque surroundings, and in which civic pride and municipal progressiveness has been aroused, where land can be bought today as cheaply as it can in Oakland? We await an answer and can confidently challenge the naming of it. We are partly finding out ourselves, but we are still a long way from realizing a correct understanding. Meanwhile large investments by outsiders and the drift of travel this way from the Eastern States and other sections are proofs that others have a more correct knowledge of Oakland as a city of opportunities than we have ourselves.

Evidences multiply that the disturbances in Spain are revolutionary in character. The war in Africa has simply furnished a pretext for an uprising against the reactionary ministry of Maura. In this is to be found an explanation of the fierce hostility toward the church and the Catholic clergy by the rioters, or, rather, insurrectionists. The liberal ministry which preceded the present government pursued a drastic policy of repression toward the church, and when it was overthrown its downfall was ascribed largely to ecclesiastical machinations. At any rate the Maura ministry has been in close accord with the Spanish clergy and the Papacy. There has been a complete reversal of the policy of church and state separation, which had its inspiration in France, and in consequence all the anti-clerical elements are in active or covert opposition to the Maura government and what it represents. Hence the attacks on churches, monasteries and Catholic schools. The church is regarded as being behind the Maura ministry, therefore popular anger strikes at the church. The king is regarded as not being in sympathy with the reactionary policy of his ministers; consequently he is popular with many of the people who are violently resisting the authority of his ministers.

Browntail and gypsy moths are causing great damage in various parts of New England. People at last have learned that if they would preserve their shade and forest trees they must fight the moths, and official moth destroyers are coming to be regular officeholders. The little things have become such a pest that municipal and state machinery is working with that of the federal government in the effort to stop their onward march.

The Tuskegee farm this year has been producing excellent results. Three hundred acres of oats were harvested, which are valued at from $4000 to $5000. From five acres which were planted in strawberries more than 5000 quarts were gathered. The school has also 260 acres of the best corn in its history. One hundred and fifty acres of sweet potatoes are planted, and the prospects for a full crop are excellent. In the dairy division 144 cows are being milked, daily, and during the month of June 3813 gallons of milk were produced. The following is a record of the creamery division for the month of June: Skimmed milk, 2887 gallons; butter, 1736 gallons; cream, 49 gallons; cottage cheese, 1329 pounds; butter, 1782 pounds.—Southern Letter.

According to a story published in the "Gesellschaft," the German Emperor has long been impressed with the "lack of bathing facilities in the homes of the people" on his estates, and directed that plans for baths "to occupy small space" be submitted to him. This was done, and the builder who submitted a design for a combination bathtub, washbasin and dining table received the order, and has

On the Santiago River near Guadalupe and near Lake Chapala, in Mexico, there are to be constructed two large power plants for the purpose of furnishing power for a vast irrigation scheme.

As a result of the great success of the electrically illuminated baseball grounds at Cincinnati, Ohio, it is expected that there will be quite a number of outdoor sports and games taking place at night, especially football, as the cool evening is more satisfactory for the game than the heat of the day.

Edward N. Lake, before the Electric Club of Chicago, stated that rapid strides were now being made in the electrification of steam railways, there being 34,000 miles of electrically operated street railways, out of the total 34,494 miles in the country, or 99 per cent.

There has recently been manufactured in Germany a new type of electromagnetic brake, comprising a pair of pole shoes, parallel to the rails and operating on them with a force of such magnitude that the weight of the brake is only three per cent of the pressure it exerts.

Professor J. A. Fleming in explaining why Hertzian waves can be transmitted more readily over water than over land, stated that the waves penetrate water to a depth of only a few feet, and thus only cause small retardation, while when traveling over dry soil there is a much greater penetration, due to poorer conductivity, which results in a greater loss of energy.

Water power is rapidly to be utilized in Australia for hydro-electric purposes, as there will soon be constructed a railway running from Trilant to Male, a distance of 88 miles, whose power will be supplied by a hydroelectric plant; the Malea Zell road, 57 miles long, is almost completed, and is to be considered the longest single-phase railway in Europe.

There is at Providence, R. I., on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway, the largest electrically controlled switch tower in the world, being equipped with seventy-seven switch levers, providing 268 combinations, and such elaborate precautionary methods that it is impossible to give a wrong signal.

Owing to the many objections of the gasoline lamps in Central Park, whereby the grass and flowers are greatly damaged by the leakage of oil, they will soon be replaced by 1400 electric lamps.

already furnished a number of homes with the unique piece of furniture. "This may be an ingenious contrivance," says the writer, "but whether a family will be more happy because of the possession of a bathtub which must do service also on wash day or whether their meals will taste better when eaten off the covered washbasin is questionable."

Herbert Samuel, who was recently named as Chancellor of Lancaster, with a seat in the Cabinet, is the first Jew to attain to that distinction in England. He is only thirty-three years old, and has been in Parliament six years. He is the brother of Stewart Samuel, who represents Whitechapel in Parliament, and a nephew of Lord Swaythling, who was formerly Sir Samuel Montagu.

In an article on the Sigel murder a writer in the Vienna "Neue Freie Presse" says: "The Chinese quarter in New York lies away from the money-conquering part of the city, uncanny in its quiet and confined. A body of lurid water in a shallow ditch separates the Asiatics from the Americans. Here in four story uniform barracks-like houses the Chinese live in great numbers, like crawling ants. The houses resemble other American buildings. Here often Elsie must have walked with steady tread over the old planks which span the waters bridge-like. A small border between European pride and Chinese degradation."

There was installed in the Belvedere restaurant of the Hotel Astor, New York, recently, a system of portable electric furniture, the invention of Frederick Muschenheim, brother of William C. Muschenheim, proprietor of the hotel. It is unlike any other electrical display ever seen in a hotel restaurant in that city. The new electric furniture is placed on the tables in the open air dining place on the roof of the hotel. On each table there is a globe filled with water and in this water are several tiny electric globes. When the current is turned on there is produced a beautiful iridescent effect. Frederick Muschenheim invented the electric revolving door which is in use at the Hotel Astor and has invented or improved many of the other electrical appliances which will be used in the addition to the Hotel Astor, when that new structure is opened to the public.

Early morning strollers along Park row, in New York, in the last few weeks have been wondering whether the government is maintaining a broad line at the postoffice. If you care to come down town any morning about 3 o'clock you are likely to see a line of at least a hundred men stretching from the entrance at the southeast point of the building, and now and then you may even see a woman or two in the procession. They are not waiting for a handout—at least not for early morning victuals—but are there to be sure of getting their naturalization papers.

Railroad News

Five men were arrested at Plainfield, N. J., for speculating in commutation tickets of the Central of New Jersey by lending them for use by transient passengers at less than single ticket rates, but were set free on payment of the costs of the court and on promising not to repeat the action.

In order to accommodate those desiring to attend the American Bankers' Association in Chicago next September, the Central Passenger Association will make a rate of a fare and a half for any round trip ticket.

Complaints made by the commercial interests of Portland, Seattle and Tacoma against the plan of readjusting rates to Spokane, proposed by the transcontinental roads, will be heard by the Interstate Commerce Commission in October in those cities.

It has been decided by the arbitration commission appointed by a court at Little Rock, Ark., to pass on a dispute between the Cunningham Commission Company and the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway, that the railway should pay to the Cunningham company $15,000, for delays in shipments, failure to deliver cars and for excessive demurrage charges.

Announcements have recently been made that the Chicago Great Western will again establish second-class party rates from Chicago to Kansas City, Leavenworth and St. Joseph, on August 15, which decision the Santa Fe, the Northwestern, the Minneapolis and St. Louis, the Burlington, the Rock Island, and the Illinois Central have announced they will meet with competition.

Reduced rates that are to be offered during the rest of the summer for merchants' excursions to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha and St. Joseph, will be placed open to the general public by a number of western lines.

Central Freight Association lines have decided to accord the Chicago to New Orleans rates to the New Orleans and Northwestern and its connections on business destined for Cuba from their territory east of the Chicago-Indiana line and as far east as the Buffalo-Pittsburg line.

Following the example of the Rock Island and the Frisco, the Kansas City Southern has filed with the Arkansas Railroad Commission an agreement to suspend litigation in the Arkansas rate cases for a year.

Testimony taken by Commissioner Clark of the Interstate Commerce Commission at St. Louis on July 12 and 13, regarding the relation of various railroads to coal companies, made known the fact that several coal operators had been threatened by the Illinois Central with withdrawal of transportation facilities from the coal mines if they would not furnish excess coal for the $1.20 a ton they had formerly contracted to sell to them.

papers. So great is the rush of applicants nowadays at the United States Circuit Court that many are bound to be disappointed daily, and the clerk, John Donovan, has devised the scheme of admitting men to the bureau of naturalization through this entrance only. The formation of the line with its right of succession to the clerk's office has been the natural result. Although the bureau is not opened until 9 o'clock in the morning, the first man to get his papers on June 25 had been sitting on a soap box in front of the building since 12 o'clock the night before.

Dancing is a strenuous exercise. Calculations show the distances negotiated in a night by fair enthusiasts and their partners to be worthy the performance of athletes. Thus, the average waltz turn will require a dancer to travel over 1300 yards. Other round dances in their accomplishment involve: the mazurka, 1600 yards; the polka, a trifle under 1000 yards; the quadrille, however, hold the record, since dancing one entails on each of the eight persons in the set, the achievement all unwittingly of a constitutional mile and a quarter long, while dancing the full card, inclusive of the cotillon, at a ball beginning say at 10 o'clock at night and winding up at 5 o'clock the following morning, necessitates the taking of 28,000 steps, or a total distance covered of over eleven miles.

If a decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals holds good, Wisconsin is the state in which to be hanged if the victim wants to leave anything except a bad name to relatives and friends. This decision was handed down in the case of Ickes against the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. The general agent of the company accepted a premium from the insured after he was imprisoned for the murder of his wife. The prisoner was hanged and the company resisted payment. The court of appeals held that the policy was a special contract not governed by the rules of commercial law, but provided for by special legislation of a state, and must be paid.

W. J. Pilkington, editor of the Merchants' Trade Journal, of Des Moines, is the business dictator of Dexter, Iowa, a town of eight hundred people. He is in absolute control of every bank and business house in the town. He authorizes the policies of each, spends their money, superintends the buying, the advertising and expansion in other phases of the business. He regulates the conduct of the clerks, besides putting into effect his ideas on how the city government should be run in order to boost the town and bring people there to trade. His control began on June 1 and will continue until January 1. In the seven months he expects to increase the amount of sales, double the profit of every merchant and make Dexter a larger town. This big task he has undertaken just as an experiment. According to the Kansas City Star, it has the cordial support of the great majority of Dexter's people.

Joseph Junette, who farms one of the Job ranches on the bluffs, near Alton, Ill., says he will quit farming and educate ducks to eat potato bugs. "A dollar a day a duck" will be his motto. Just now Mr. Junette is enjoying an income of $15 a day from fifteen ducks, which he has trained to clear potato patches of the little spotted pests. He shut up the ducks in a pen and fed them on potato bugs exclusively, after starving them until they were glad to get the bug diet.

Junette tried them first on his own potato patch, which comprised several acres. The ducks went through the patch like a neighborhood scandal. After this Junette shut up his brigade so they would not acquire a taste for other diet and would be hungry and able to earn their wages the next time out. The ducks are in great demand on the farms in Junette's neighborhood. Farmers are glad to pay $150 an hour for the services of the brigade. Junette has in sight an income of $30 a week from the fifteen ducks already educated and thus employed.

C. E. S. Phillips recently exhibited to the Royal Society a watch having a transparent glass dial and being backed with a compound of radium bromide, which rendered it permanently luminous, so that the time may be easily read in the dark.

In July, 1908, the Prussian Aeronautical Observatory of Lindenberg organized a series of ascents of kites and balloons on Lake Victoria, for the purpose of studying atmospheric conditions, with the result that when one registering balloon had attained a height of 18.8 kilometers, the temperature was 34 degrees C., a lower value than has ever been found at equal or even greater altitudes all over Europe.

After a serious consideration and study as to why fires break out in ships carrying coal cargoes, the N. E. W. Royal Commission showed that spontaneous combustion of coal shipments only had been found when the vessel had been loaded in summer, thus storing up a great deal of heat energy.

Eggs may be effectually and economically preserved for many months by placing them first in compressed carbon dioxide, which almost completely sterilizes them, and then in a mixture of carbon dioxide and an inert gas, nitrogen or hydrogen, at a temperature near the freezing point, so that the micro-organisms which have not been destroyed cannot develop.

According to a French commission formed for the purpose of studying the vertical and inclined styles of handwriting, with regard to the health of school children, the inclined is far superior, because it is simpler and less fatiguing than the vertical style, and less likely to cause spinal curvature and other evil results.

At the Millwall docks, London a new installation of grain handling and storing appliances has recently been put to work, including pneumatic elevators, which draw grain out of the hold of a ship at the rate of 75 tons per hour for each elevator. Four work simultaneously, each lifting into a separate hold. The grain is lifted through flexible pipes to an elevation of 80 feet. A total length of 2 1/2 miles of piping carries the grain to the granary on the quay.

The British army council has decided to abolish the old custom of "Crying Down Credit." Under the king's regulations, commanding officers, on arriving at a new station, are required to make proclamation warning tradespeople and others that a soldier's pay cannot be stopped for a private debt, and that those who allow soldiers to contract debts do so at their own risk. The custom in the old days, often gave rise to a picturesque ceremony, the commanding officer, accompanied by a detachment of his regiment and the drums, reading the proclamation in the market place. The last occasion on which the ceremony was performed was a year or two ago. The old proclamation is now to be replaced by newspaper advertisements.

An altar frontal, which has just come into possession of the Roman Catholic Church of St. John's, near Norwich, has a pathetic interest attaching to it. About eighteen months ago Colonel Noyes died suddenly while on his honeymoon. His young, grief-stricken widow sent her bride robe to the nuns of a convent in Bloomsbury, where four skilled embroiderers have been engaged upon it ever since. The altar frontal is eight feet long and four feet deep, and it is designed in three panels, depicting beautiful executed figures. The first of the three is an allegorical likeness of the late Colonel Noyes, who is represented as a medieval knight. The arms and toes of Colonel Noyes and of the wife's family are embroidered over the panels.

GIER RE-ELECTED BANK PRESIDENT

Treasurer's Report Shows Finances of Institution in Splendid Shape

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of California, held at the bank recently, and of the 108,750 shares of stock issued, 50,478 answered the roll call, either in person or by proxy.

President Gier, in making his report as president, spoke at length of the progress of the bank since its organization, and stated that while there had been one or two unfortunate matters occurring in the history of the bank, still these matters had been adjusted, and so far the bank had not sustained any loss. He said that with 515 stockholders, if all of the stockholders took an interest in the affairs of the bank, there would be no doubt but that the bank would prosper. He added that he hoped each stockholder would interest himself to advance and promote the interests of the bank, even more, if possible, than he had during the last year. He was glad to see that the bank and its management had the confidence of the stockholders, as shown by their presence at the meeting, and as evidenced by the lack of criticism.

Requests Questions
During his address he repeatedly requested any person desiring to ask any questions to stand at the front of the hall, and he was glad to find that the management had the confidence of the stockholders. He commented upon the fact that freedom in the history of banks was its position for a bank in the first two years of its life to declare a dividend. He promised to the stockholders the same careful, honest management of the affairs of the institution that it had been receiving up to the present time.

Confidence in Bank
Gier further said that he was glad to announce that the progress and popularity of the bank, as shown by the fact that the savings bank deposits, or time deposits, as they are called, were increasing, and that the bank was steadily increasing month after month, since the bank was organized. He stated that the fact alone showed the confidence the community had in the management of the bank, and also showed in a general way the increasing prosperity of the community, and he hoped that inasmuch as all signs are now pointing toward continued and increasing prosperity, that the stockholders of the bank would save part of their earnings, and show their thrift and economy by continually increasing their savings deposits, as a 4 per cent interest without taxes, payable every six months, was much better and safer for the citizen and householder as an investment than the purchase of uncertain securities, or interests in industrial schemes.

Financial Report
The financial report of the secretary and cashier was then read, showing that there were 108,750 shares of the capital stock of the bank issued, and that the statement of the bank at the close of business July 1, 1909, was as follows:

LIABILITIES
Capital paid up	$108,020.00
Reserves and surplus	$5,010.00
Undivided profits	$1,443.84
Dividends unpaid	$478.40
Due to depositors	$24,636.33
	$409,608.67
RESOURCES
Loans and discounts	$356,145.82
Bond account	$5,708.25
Furniture and fixtures	$1,117.93
Cash on hand and in other banks	$56,364.21
Real estate	$1,274.66
	$469,608.67

Directors Elected
President Gier announced that the next order of business would be the election by ballot of the stockholders of eleven persons for directors of the bank, and called for nominations for such directors. Thereupon the following eleven persons were placed in nomination:

Theo. Gier, wholesale merchant; Albert Kayser, capitalist; P. N. Kusan, contractor; Edwin Messa, city treasurer; S. A. Knapp, mine owner; Robert Kuerzel, merchant; Frank C. Benram, merchant; Ben C. Johnson, contractor; Herman Muhr, merchant; Adolph Schluter, merchant; and Geo. E. De Golla, attorney.

Other nominations were called for, but none being made, on motion unanimously adopted, the nominations were declared closed.

President Gier then appointed as tellers Messrs. Kott, Whitehead and Blumberg, and the secretary began to call the roll, whereupon motions came from all over the meeting to the effect that the secretary cast the ballot for all the shares present in favor of the old Board of Directors nominated above, and not a dissenting vote was recorded against the motion.

The secretary thereupon cast the ballot for 90,478 shares of the capital stock present, and the president announced the due election of the eleven persons above named as directors of the corporation for the ensuing year, and until their successors shall be elected.

Vote of Thanks
Thereupon several stockholders made a motion that a vote of thanks should be given to the retiring board and officers of the corporation and the confidence in the management of the bank, and the motion was carried with applause, the meeting adjourned and everyone went home fully satisfied.

President Gier was asked why the name of merchant A. Jones was omitted from the new Board of Directors, and he said:

"Under the new banking law there is often required the presence of eight members of the Board in order to take action, and Mr. Jones is now in Europe, and will not be back for a month or two. Again, Mr. Jones was the vice-president of the bank before he left, and at various times during the year he has been compelled to be out of town, we have had no president or vice-president to sign the checks, and I thought it best for the bank to elect some one to act as director and vice-president in place of Mr. Jones until his return when, doubtless, he will again be placed on the board."

Officers of Bank
The old Board of Directors then met and after reading the minutes and approving their actions, then to the time, adjourned sine die. The new board then convened, and by unanimous vote elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President, Theo. Gier; vice-president, Albert Kayser; secretary and attorney, Geo. E. De Golla; cashier and assistant secretary, R. F. Crist.

Many thanks were given to Mr. Crist for the election of officers above that he has been promoted from the position of assistant cashier, the formal title to the position he has formerly held to that of a full-fledged cashier, and the board felt that it was due to Mr. Crist for his faithful service since he took charge of the bank about February 1, 1909.

The State Superintendent of Banks, Mr. Alden Anderson, has just finished his official examination of the affairs of the bank, as required under the new Bank Act, and Dr. Watson was quite free with his expressions of satisfaction at the present prosperous condition of the bank, and commended the officials for their careful management.

REPORTS FAVORABLY ON DREDGING OF CREEK

SAN RAFAEL, July 30.—The San Rafael canal committee is in receipt of a letter from Congressman McKimley, in which he states that Colonel John Blaisdell's report on the San Rafael creek was favorable to the improvement of the channel and recommends that a survey be made for a channel four or five feet deep and from fifty to one hundred feet wide.

state and the citizens of San Rafael, he believes the channel to be worthy of improvement to a limited extent by the United States.

The board of engineers at Washington appear to be against the project, and Congressman McKimley states that the probabilities are that the objections of the engineers can be overcome, and that he will consult the local committee on the subject when he reaches home.

Miss Minnie Smith, residing at 2240 Chappel street, reports to the police that she lost her pocket book, containing two Wells-Fargo checks and $20 in coin, in a Telegraph avenue car on July 29th.

SIX MONTHS AND FINE ON CHARGE OF BATTERY

President District Deputy Blinn was present and was assisted by Albert Kilmus marshal. The majority of the members of the parlor and a number of Native Sons from visiting parlors were in attendance and assisted in the work.

POLICE TO INVESTIGATE SACRAMENTO WINE CELLAR

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Chief of Police Sullivan is making an investigation into the wine cellar of Josie Battara, known among the Bohemians of Sacramento as "Red Rosie's." There wine is sold without a license. The substance of a wine shop is reached by richly carved stairs and for those who can manage bundles of straw are offered the same.

TAX RATE WILL HAVE TO BE INCREASED

From Two to Five Cents Will Have to Be Added to the $1.20

WORK IN THE STREET DEPARTMENT THE CAUSE

This Method is Suggested Instead of Placing License on Vehicles

Councilman Oliver Ellsworth, chairman of the financial committee, and Mayor Mott are of the opinion that the recommendation of City Auditor Gross that the tax rate of $1.20 on the $100 will have to be revised upward, slightly, to meet the necessities of the street department. The matter will be in the hands of the City Council next Monday evening and it is possible that from two to five cents will be added to the rate.

In speaking of the matter, Councilman Ellsworth said:

"The figures submitted by Auditor Gross are correct in the main and show much careful thought and study. However, the allowance for the street department falls far short of the contemplated work. We have matters moving rapidly as to improvements and are accomplishing things that will be of benefit to the city fifty years from now."

"It is vital that we keep right at work. To do so we must have money. For that reason it is probable that from two to five cents will be added to the tax rate to provide sufficient funds for the street department."

Oakland Fortunate

"Many merchants have expressed the opinion to me that it would be preferable to have a slightly higher tax rate for street improvements than to impose a tax upon vehicles. When the tax rate of Seattle, which is three cents on the dollar, and Los Angeles, which is nearly as large, is taken into consideration, Oakland may consider herself fortunate in having a tax rate of but, say, one and one-quarter cents on the dollar. "I think public sentiment demands that we not only keep pace with other cities in the matter of improvements, but that we outstrip them. With a few more cents added to the tax rate, a showing can be made in Oakland which will cause every citizen to take renewed pride in his home city."

CLUB LEADER DIES IN MANILA

Daughter to Come to America With Ashes of Mrs. Frank W. Gorham

News was received the other day in Oakland of the death of Mrs. Frank W. Gorham at a navy hospital in Manila on June 26. Mrs. Gorham was one of the best known club women in this part of the State, and had many friends in Oakland and San Francisco, as well as in Vallejo, where she lived previous to her husband's appointment a few years ago to a responsible position at the naval station at Cavite.

About a year ago, Mrs. Gorham with her husband and 16-year old daughter, Miss Mildred Gorham, spent three months in this vicinity, taking in the fleet and visiting with old friends. They returned last August to Cavite.

Mrs. Gorham passed away after an illness of twenty-three days. Her remains have been cremated, and the ashes, accompanied by the young daughter, are being sent to Vallejo for interment.

Mrs. Gorham was for several terms president of the Woman's Improvement Club of Vallejo, her home city, and was also president for several terms of the San Francisco District of the State Federation, and during her brief visit here last year was prominent in club life.

SCHOOLS IN BERKELEY WILL OPEN ON MONDAY

BERKELEY, July 30.—The Berkeley schools will open Monday morning with what is expected to be the largest enrollment in history. There will be more accommodations for the pupils and less congestion in the rooms because of the completion of a number of new buildings.

The new $250,000 Polytechnic school is now ready for occupancy and will relieve the strain on the high school where last term 1100 students crowded into accommodate nearly 700 but as a portion of it is to be utilized for purely manual training work the relief for the academic course in the high school will be limited.

MINNEY-ROBINSON COMPANY INCORPORATES

The Minney-Robinson Company of Oakland has filed articles of incorporation with the County Clerk. Its capital stock is stated at $500,000, divided into as many shares of the par value of $1 each. Two hundred thousand of the shares are to be issued as common stock and the balance as preferred stock. The incorporators, and directors for the first year are M. T. Minney, President; R. Robinson, F. R. Dunn and E. E. Grinnell, all of Oakland. The corporation will engage in a general real estate, loan, commercial and industrial business.

INCORPORATE TO GO INTO OIL INDUSTRY

For the purpose of engaging in the petroleum industry, F. D. Burr and A. J. Moore of Oakland and F. L. Leal of Livermore have filed with the County Clerk articles of incorporation of the California Oil Company. The capital stock is stated at $20,000, divided into 2000 shares of the par value of $10 each.

Boy of 16 Years Saves Two Lives in Twenty-Four Hours

MISS LILLA LOVELL, who narrowly escaped being drowned in the current of the Russian river.

Caught in the current of the Russian river at McCray's swimming pool while bathing with a party of friends, Miss Lilla Lovell, a popular social favorite of this city and member of the "Lanterns" sorority of Berkeley, was saved from death by drowning by J. Arthur Code Jr., one of the crack swimmers of the Olympic Club.

At the identical spot twenty-four hours later Code, who is only 16 years of age, again proved his courage by rescuing little Jack Shibley, son of Dr. J. Wilson Shibley of this city.

Strength Gives Way

Miss Lovell was floating in the rapids when her strength gave way. Struggling in vain, she lay under a huge rock into a deep pool.

Her friends stood helpless on the river bank watching her sink and rise in a drowning person's struggle against death and she sank.

But when the young Code had plunged into the water and approached her with vigorous strokes. When she again came to the surface he was at her side and held her head above water until additional help reached them in a boat.

Presence of Mind

Miss Lovell, who is much heavier than Code, is herself credited with considerable presence of mind, for she overcame a strong impulse to throw out arms around her rescuer and cling to him in the hope of safety.

"My first impulse was to grab him," Miss Lovell declared "but some instinct told me that if I did both of us would drown. So I kept myself as motionless as I could. Code exhibited wonderful coolness and courage. I owe him my life."

Views New Hat as Thief Works

Called to Look at "Creation" and Leaves Strange Man in Flat

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—While Mrs. Holm, 410 Stewart street, was showing a prospective tenant a flat at 1131 Geary street yesterday, a neighbor carrying the upstairs flat called her upstairs to look at a new hat, which had just been received fresh from the milliner.

When Mrs. Holm returned the strange man had disappeared. Also a gold watch, valued at $25 was missing from Mrs. Holm's chain, which she had hung on a hook in the wall. The note and looking for a tall, dark man in a well cut clothes.

Still Gone

A similar experience was that of Mrs. W. Dodson, 1005 Kearny street, who hired a strange man to tie up a trunk, preparatory to moving. Suddenly the man stopped work and departed, saying he would get some more rope, and be back in a few moments. He is still gone, as is Mrs. Dodson's horse which contained gold and silver coin.

Mrs. Dodson describes the fellow as being thirty-five years old, five feet six inches in height, weighing 125 pounds, and wearing a small black moustache.

Fiat Robbed

Charles L. Harmon, 1438A Clay street, reported to the police this morning that his fiat had been entered between 9:30 and 12 o'clock last night through a rear window, and a quantity of rings taken.

William Levy, 548 Fifth street, reports his residence entered through a rear window last night and jewelry to the value of $35 taken.

Clothing and other articles to the value of $36 were stolen from C. D. Howell's apartments at Buena Vista. The family's absence last night during the burglary, the burglars making their exit through a back room window.

ATTORNEY FOR CITY DEFENDS HIS ACTION

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—City Attorney Joseph Hawkins of San Rafael, cited by Judge Van Nostrand to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court, appeared before Judge Van Nostrand, who was then sitting in that city.

He claimed that the building had been condemned. Today Hawkins explained that it was not because of the condemnatory decree having been granted the show, but because the building people had failed to obtain a license. The matter was then submitted to the court for decision.

SEEKS TO HOLD-UP EX-HUSBAND'S PAY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Mrs. Jessie A. Mullally brought suit for an injunction against John A. Koster, the auditor of this city, to restrain him from paying the salary of her divorced husband, James A. Mullally, who is an inmate of the Pacific Emergency hospital.

CHINESE FIGHT FOR LITTLE MAH HO

Battle Opens in Court For Custody of Girl Rescued From Den

HELD A PRISONER FOR THE PAST FIVE YEARS

American Child Regards the Light of Day as a Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Mah Ho, the nine-year-old girl who was rescued from a den in Chinatown and who is believed to be Alice Minto the daughter of unknown Italian parents, appeared before Judge J. J. Von Nostrand in the juvenile court today as the basis of legal proceedings to determine whether she will return to the Presbyterian Chinese Mission or to the den where she was held a prisoner for five years past. Mah Ho, an elderly Chinese, who rents the aged housekeeper of the girl upon the contention that there is Chinese blood in her veins. Miss Donaldina Cameron of the Presbyterian Mission, who assisted in the raid, that resulted in the discovery of the child, came into court with an attorney, fifteen account of Mah Ho's history.

Light a Mystery

According to the representations made by Miss Cameron's attorneys, Alice Minto was abandoned into the keeping of the "Children's Home Society" when she was four years old by her parents, who were destitute. She was twice entrusted to families and twice returned to the society, which finally turned her over to the custody of the Salvation Army. It is alleged that Mah Ho and her mother made representations to Miss Williams that resulted in their obtaining possession of the child. During her stay of five years in Chinatown the child has forgotten all English manners and customs. She speaks nothing but Chinese and regards the light of day as a mystery.

AUTO TOURISTS ARE ON LAST LAP

Motorists Hope to Reach Kansas City Late This Afternoon

SALINA, Kas., July 30.—On the last leg of their 2638.8 mile journey, the Glidden tourists left Salina this morning for Kansas City. They hope to reach Kansas City by 5 o'clock this afternoon. The distance to Kansas City is 212.8 miles. The last car did not get away until 8:20 a. m. A drizzling rain was falling. The route of today's run lay through a part of Kansas that had experienced heavy rains of late and the roads were in bad condition.

Penalties were almost certain but all the cars were in good condition at the start and the tourists were outspoken in their regret at the near ending of the long journey.

Yesterday's run did not take away any of the clean scores. Five cars in the contest for the Glidden trophy and an equal number in the Howar trophy class yet have perfect scores.

The two Pierce-Arrows, the two Premiers and a Marmon are perfect in the Glidden trophy class. Two Plerces, a Chrysler, a Packard, a Buick and the Lexington are still perfect in the Howar trophy class.

MISS MARIAN W. MORROW WILL BECOME A BRIDE

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Marian W. Morrow to Ralph C. Lumpe has created considerable interest in local social circles. For though the young woman whose betrothal is today made known is a resident of San Francisco, she is the daughter of a family of the same name and of the same lineage as the Oakland Miss Morrow and a prominent young Oaklander has of late been making the friends of the local girl society. The bride and groom are expressing great surprise and pleasure at the news of the engagement. The name of the young man in the case should be kept secret.

Miss Marian Morrow of San Francisco is a charming and beautiful girl, as is her Oakland namesake, so it is but natural that the friends of the local girl society should be puzzled. The young San Francisco maid is a member of a prominent family and will live in Piedmont. Mr. Lumpe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lumpe, and is connected with a large San Francisco firm. Their wedding will be an event of the early fall, and as to the other Miss Morrow, her engagement is not as yet announced.

RUNAWAY HORSE IS STOPPED AFTER CHASE

A serious accident was averted this morning at the corner of Eighth and Broadway, when a horse and rig belonging to the Liberty Meat Market dashed into a number of vehicles on the corner. The rig was hurt, but no one was injured. The driver was in the rig at the time the horse took flight. At the corner of Eighth and Broadway the horse was stopped.

BAILIFF MOORE WILL BE LAID TO REST SATURDAY

The funeral of William A. Moore, the late bailiff of police court No. 1, will be held tomorrow afternoon from Jefferson and Fifteenth streets. Chief of Police Wilson has detailed the following policemen and police officers to act as pallbearers: Sergeants B. L. Curtis and William McCleod and Patrolmen J. R. Hill, M. H. Romero, J. P. Scanlan and John Murray.

ROSS WILL HAVE A MODERN TOWN HALL

SAN RAFAEL, July 30.—Plans and specifications are now being prepared by Architect Housholder of this place for a $2500 building at Ross, to be used as a town hall. The structure will be a two-story building, built on the old mission site.

The ground floor will be used for the fire apparatus, while the second story will hold their meetings.

Popular Belle to Become the Bride Of Business Man

MISS VALERIE TUSKA, whose wedding will be an event Wednesday evening.

The wedding of Miss Valerie Tuska and Lester Kahler of San Francisco will be solemnized Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, 3234 Washington street. Judge Max C. Sloss will officiate. The bride has selected as her attendants Miss Olga Divoris and Miss Jennie Alpern, who will act as bridesmaids. The ribbon bearers will be Claire Brandenstein, Gertrude Jacobs and Camille Alexander.

Miss Tuska has been a much-feted bride-elect and her many friends in Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley have entertained lavishly in her honor. She is exceedingly popular on both sides of the bay, where she belongs to several exclusive coteries, and is a general favorite. Miss Tuska is the daughter of Wall J. Tuska, an attorney of San Francisco.

Lester Kahler is engaged in business in San Francisco and is active in mercantile circles. The young couple will make their home in San Francisco.

"DIAMOND BERTHA" UNDULY MIRTHFUL

Clad in Virgin White and Galaxy of Jewels, Upsets Court Session

The wheels of justice were blocked this morning in Police Judge Samuel's court by the uncontrollable laughter of one of the witnesses in the case of Walter Douglas, charged with vagrancy.

Bertha Johnson, better known to the colored population as "Diamond Bertha," was the witness with the big laugh. She had apparently made a special toilet for her appearance in court. She was arrayed in a dress of white cream silk, a hat crammed with gorgeous white plumes which was rather in contrast with her ebony features. Pendant from her ears hung diamonds as long as your thumb. Her hands were encased in white gloves, but on the outside was a galaxy of rings, principally diamonds. To add to the jewelry store effect, the lady had a mouth full of gold.

Long and Loud

Some trivial question was asked her as to the defendant and she burst into a fit of laughter. She continued for five minutes. Bailiff J. F. Flynn rapped for order, but to no avail. Judge Samuel tried to calm the witness. Clerk Mott did what he could, while Prosecuting Attorney Kenessey vainly tried to restrain the mirth. "Ha! Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho! Ho! Ha! Ha! Ha!" the lady went, bending forward and backward in her seat, with mouth open wide, showing twenty gold crowned teeth. The laughter became infectious. The court, the bailiff, the clerk and the prosecuting attorney all joined in. When the witness was physically exhausted quiet was restored and the case proceeded.

Douglas was convicted on the charge.

Youth Has Narrow Escape From Death

SAN LEANDRO, July 30.—Eight-year-old Douglas Cline had a narrow escape from being killed last night, when he fell under the front of a Hayward car which was going at high rate of speed. Young Cline was riding on the back end of a fruit wagon and did not notice the car approaching from behind. He fell in jumping from the wagon, and the fender of the car passed over his body, the motorman of the car applying the brakes at once.

The car stopped when the front wheel came within a foot of the boy's body. He escaped with but a few bruises and, greatly frightened, ran at once to his home on Cullum avenue, refusing all assistance.

Seven Overcome By Heat in East

NEW YORK, July 30.—The hot wave from the west broke out in New York and vicinity in earnest today. The temperature rose to 88 degrees at 11 o'clock. The humidity continues high.

KNIGHTS OF MACCABEES FORM A CORPORATION

Maccabees, has filed articles of incorporation with the County Clerk, under authority of the Supreme Court of the State. The incorporators and trustees for the first year are S. W. Hall, E. R. Tait, A. L. Brunner, S. A. Hillard, J. C. Scott, J. L. Fine, E. F. Garrison and W. M. Kneels of Oakland, and C. M. Van Horn of San Francisco. The corporation has no capital stock.

CITY PHYSICIAN IS CENSURED BY JURYMEN

Keefer Came to Death From Fractured Skull, Is Coroner's Report

We, the jury, do find that the name of the deceased was John F. Keefer, a native of Alaska, Laramie, aged about 57 years, and that he came to his death on the 8th day of July, 1909, at about 10:30 o'clock a. m., at 5601 Broadway, Fruitvale, Alameda County, California, and that the death was caused by fractures of the skull, due to his falling and violently striking his head upon the floor in the store of Sam Steward prior to the arrival of the police, and that the death of Keefer was hastened through the negligence of the City Physician, Dr. E. M. Ewer, in not performing the duty for which he is employed at $150 per month—that is, in failing to visit said prison after having been notified of the condition of said Keefer, and was censured said Ewer for his neglect of duty in that behalf.

This was the verdict submitted by the jury at the coroner's inquest this morning into the death of John F. Keefer, despite the efforts of Mrs. Marie Keefer to prove by witnesses that her husband came to his death as the result of a broken back, caused by the blows of officers of the Oakland police force in placing Keefer under arrest.

Called Three Times

It was brought out in the testimony that Dr. E. M. Ewer was called three times within the space of forty-eight hours to attend to the case of Keefer, and that the physician could not be brought to the scene on account of having to attend to private cases.

J. J. Eberhart, a traction engineer living at 528 East Fourteenth street, who is said to have been standing in the doorway of Sam Steward's store at the time that Keefer was taken into custody, testified that Keefer was struck in the back a number of times with the heavy clubs wielded by officers of the force.

Hit on Feet

His testimony was given no credence, however, by the jury, on account of the fact that three witnesses—Policemen Dolan and Murphy and Sam Steward, proprietor of the leather store, agreed absolutely in their testimony that Keefer was simply struck on the sides of his feet by the officers to wake him up, as he was lying on the floor.

Steward showed in his testimony that Keefer had sustained a heavy fall prior to the arrival of the police, and it was on the basis of his statement that the jury attributed the death of the unfortunate man to a "fractured skull due to a violent fall."

The jury was composed of H. Vandermere, F. Fisher, H. Fisher, L. C. Gardner, C. Jameson, H. Behrman and T. C. Drennan.

TO COLLECT CITY TAXES WITH VAN

Dodgers Must Pay Up or See Their Property Hauled Away

As a remedy for persons who refuse to pay their personal property tax to the city, Auditor Gross will tomorrow morning send a van to the houses of the delinquents and levy upon their furniture and other property susceptible to taxation.

For the last two or three years there have been a number of persons who absolutely refuse to pay their personal property tax, after receiving notice from the auditor's office, and also after having been interviewed by the deputies.

To put an end to beating the city out of the amounts due, Auditor Gross has decided to take summary action and will call upon the delinquents tomorrow with a van capable of holding the personal belongings of those who refuse to pay the taxes.

Auditor Gross states he regrets to take this action, but it is the only lawful means at his disposal whereby he can compel the payment of taxes due.

San Jose Merchant Robbed by Thugs

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—John Meyer, a San Jose merchant stopping at the New York House, 759 Howard street, while on a sight-seeing expedition last night, was held up at the corner of Eighth and Montgomery streets by a footpad, who thrust a gun into Meyer's face and asked for his coin.

The fellow secured $150 in gold and escaped. He is described as being short and dark and about 35 years old.

Desert Still Holds Death Mystery

SAN DIEGO, July 30.—Joseph Stahl, who was thought to have met death on the desert near Calexico as the result of a rattlesnake bite, returned here today, safe and sound. The identity of the man whose remains were found and buried by the Calexico authorities is now clouded in mystery.

FRED A. HOOPER IS IMPROVING IN HEALTH

This morning the following reassuring telegram was received by El H. Benjamin from Fred A. Hooper, of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, and a member of the Oakland lodge of Elks, who was severely stricken with illness during the recent Elk reunion in Los Angeles, and who is still there convalescing.

"The doctor expects to discharge me on Sunday. I am much improved but weak. The expressions of sympathy extended by my brothers have comforted me. I have been the recipient of my recovery. At 11 o'clock I am with you."

WHALE IS KILLED IN LONG ISLAND SOUND

HYMPSTEAD, L. I., July 30.—A word was received here tonight of an eleven-foot whale discovered by William Van Ness, a member of the Nassau-York Yacht Club, who was out on a short cruise with his gun and put an end to the whale. The case was continued by Judge Deary until next Tuesday, at which time the defendant's testimony will be heard.

SPECIAL VENIRE WILL SOON HAVE TO BE CALLED IN CALHOUN CASE

Byron Mauzy Is Excused Because He Is Candidate for Mayor

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The annual draw on the big jury box which is being daily brought from the County Clerk's office to Judge Lawlor's court to furnish veniremen for the trial of Patrick Calhoun has almost exhausted the two thousand names placed in it in January of this year and intended to last for twelve months.

With the drawing of one hundred additional talesmen this morning, only four hundred remain, and by the middle of next week a special venire will have to be resorted to.

Mauzy Released

Byron Mauzy, the local piano dealer and Republican candidate for Mayor, was one of those summoned for jury duty and appeared before Judge Lawlor this morning. He offered his candidacy as an excuse for being allowed to go and was quickly released by the Court.

Horace Reed, a real estate agent, informed Judge Lawlor that it took all of his commissions to support his family, and that his wife and family would suffer if he were forced to serve. Nevertheless, on account of the numerous citizens who were being excused because of illness, exemption and other grounds, he was instructed to remain and be further examined by counsel.

When Edward Peabody, a coal merchant of 101 Fremont street, was summoned, he was asked the usual question: "Do you know of any reason why you should not serve as a trial juror at this time?"

"I have a certificate of discharge, your honor, which expired only today," he replied.

torted. "I think you must have someone on my trail."

"Your name was placed in the box last January," rejoined Judge Lawlor, in order to parry the intimation of the talesman.

"I don't want to serve, your honor. I was called on the Ford jury and excused," was the answer.

And accordingly he was dismissed.

Excuse No Good

Notwithstanding the fact that Morris J. Blackman, of 2221 Oak street, had been summoned three times within the last year and on the previous Calhoun trial, he was directed to remain to be questioned by counsel. His protestations that his business would suffer were of no avail, he having used that excuse on the last occasion of his being called.

Scarcely half of those summoned for today's examination put in an appearance and after Judge Lawlor had finished his questioning, they remained a mere handful to be interrogated by counsel.

Knows Phelan

The first talesman was C. L. Haskell, a retired harness man of 708 Ashbury street. He was well acquainted with Phelan and Sprague and Dr. Boxton. He had a formidable opinion but believed he could try the case fairly.

"I am as honorable as any man on earth," he asserted, "and I could set aside my opinion and listen to the evidence without bias."

The juror had attended for that reason was excused, together with Frank J. Sullivan of 381 Starvan street and Frank J. Murphy, a wine merchant, both of whom had strong leanings in the case.

Views on Ruef

Seaco L. Burton, a machinist of 2222 Greenwich street, put most of the blame for the alleged bribery upon Abraham Ruef.

"I think Ruef was the chief scoundrel of the whole lot," he affirmed, "and he ought to be punished."

"I believe that they were Ruef's tools," he said, "and they should be punished."

"I think he was just held up by Mr. Ruef," he said.

He was released as were also James Packer, retired, David M. Schoenfeld, a wholesale tobacconist, and Samuel Weil, a woodware maker, the first two of whom had strong opinions, and the latter named being allowed to go by consent.

Didn't Want to Serve

F. S. Hooper of 1108 A Valencia street, a plumber, was positive in declining to serve.

"I don't want to serve, I can't leave my business," he said.

Judge Lawlor demanded that he answer the queries of counsel, but he was finally dismissed by consent.

Morris J. Blackman, a hardware dealer, had already made up his mind on the case, and was permitted to leave, after which adjournment was taken till 1 o'clock.

Yesterday's Session

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—When the TRIBUNE went to press yesterday afternoon a talesman without an opinion, John O. McArdle, a retired milliner, was on the stand. His mind was slightly free from bias or prejudice and he declared that he would follow the evidence altogether. He had not heard that Eneeny was a candidate for district attorney and when questioned about politics, said:

"I never spent ten cents for a politician in my life and I never took a bribe from any of them."

He had favored the caermen in the strike of May, 1907, because he felt that the corporation was better able to stand the strain than the men. After an examination covering about half an hour, Judge Lawlor ordered the questioning of the other prospective jurors to proceed, but Stanley Moore and District Attorney Langdon had put their heads together and made a deal.

Gustave Schaefer, Fred W. Meyer, William Nicol, John E. Connell, Bernard J. Joseph, Grazino Ratto, Fred W. Leunman, Octaviano Pistolesi, Henry Mueggli and Fred B. Nayer were all excused because of positive preconceived opinions, most of which were favorable to the defendant.

Edward W. Putnam was discharged because of the fact that he had been present in court during the arguments in the last trial and had also been summoned and previously charged in one of the cases against Tracy L. Egan.

FIGHT PISTOL DUEL ON A TROLLEY CAR

Southern Pacific Brakeman is Shot in Jaw By a Conductor

QUARRELLED OVER THE PAYMENT OF A FARE

Wounded Man Faints But at the Hospital it is Said He Will Recover

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—A violent dispute over the payment of a fare on a Third and Eddy street car at 5 o'clock this morning resulted in the serious injury of Charles L. Todd, a brakeman for the Southern Pacific company, and the placing of a charge of assault to murder against Lloyd H. Brubaker, a conductor for the United Railroads, who shot him in the left jaw.

Todd was on his way to work from his home at 3415 Twenty-second street, and boarded a car which had just left the Eighteenth and Kentucky street barn on its first run.

Conductor Brubaker demanded his fare and he declares that the man responded that he was only going a few blocks and it was all right. The conductor became insistent and Todd told him he had failed to get a transfer from the other car on which he had been riding, and Brubaker

Man Will Recover

The injured man fainted from the loss of blood and was removed by Policemen Crowley and King to the Potrero hospital, and thence to the Central Emergency hospital, where Dr. Tillman extracted the bullet, which had ranged down into the neck. The doctor gave it as his opinion that the injured man would recover.

Todd denies absolutely that he ever had a revolver, and none was found on his person. He takes all the blame for the shooting, however, upon his own shoulders, and declares that he will not prosecute Conductor Brubaker.

After making one trip, the latter was arrested by the officers and booked at the city prison.

BALDWIN ANNEX SITE SELLS FOR $500,000

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—A real estate sale involving nearly $500,000 was closed yesterday, which shows the increase in value of Market street property in the last seven years. The property is the former site of the Baldwin Annex, on the north side of Market street next to the Flood building. A. Aronson is the purchaser and the estate of the late E. J. Baldwin the seller.

The price paid for the vacant lot was $450,000, which is the same that Aronson offered for the land and improvements in 1902. Aronson will erect at once a two-story class "A" building, so constructed as to carry several additional stories.

SUSPECTS EMPLOYE OF SAFE ROBBERY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Otto Grambow, a jeweler, of 1301 Eddy street, reported to the police this morning that his safe had been opened sometime during the past week and a gold watch, gold chain and a square gold locket, set with a diamond, stolen.

The safe had been entered by working the combination and Grambow told the police that he suspects an employee of the robbery.

The public improvement committee of the city council last night recommended that $7000 be appropriated for the construction of a concrete culvert in the northeast end of Lake Merritt. The proposed work is a part of the plan of the park commission to beautify Lake Merritt and the measure was unanimously passed. At the present time there is a wooden culvert there, which can scarcely be considered an adornment.

BUTTERS WILL CASE GOES OVER

Continuance For Week Granted Heirs in the Superior Court

Another continuance of one week was granted in the Probate Department of the Superior Court this morning by Judge Waste in the matter of the probate of the will of the late Lucio Beebe Butters, on motion of the heirs.

The announced opposition to the probate and contest of the first clause of the will has not yet taken tangible form, and it is generally believed that today's continuance was secured in order to give the attorneys more time in which to prepare the necessary papers.

In the Superior Court of San Francisco yesterday afternoon Henry A. Butters, the 17-year-old son of the late Henry A. Butters, millionaire mining man, filed a petition through his guardians, David S. Edwards and Lucius E. Bray, for a family allowance of $500 a month, the will having been probated there.

BANK CLEARINGS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Building permits. New buildings: 27 permits at $22,152; alterations, 20 permits at $5319; total 47 permits at $67,602.

Rabbi Robbed While Student At University

REV. DR. M. FRIED, who reported that he was robbed of $30 from his locker in the gymnasium of U. C.

Rev. Dr. Michael Fried, rabbi of Temple B'nai Israel of Sacramento, who has been attending the sessions of the University of California summer school, recently reported the theft of $30 which he said was removed from his locker in Harmon gymnasium while he was attending one of the lectures.

Dr. Fried stated that he believed the money was not taken by any student, but by an outsider, who makes a business of investigating lockers in the absence of the owners.

The gymnasium suit in which the robbery took place was a physical exercise suit.

The distinguished divine has been rabbi of B'nai Israel Temple for ten years and was an honored graduate of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America.

LODGE HONORS PROMINENT ELKS

Colonel Ritter is Made a Life Member of the Order

At last night's meeting of Oakland Lodge of Elks, the signal honor of life membership in the organization was conferred on Col. Ritter, the commander of the now famous drill team of the lodge which won the first prize in the great competition at the late grand lodge celebration in Los Angeles.

The distinction was accorded the colonel by way of appreciating his devotion to the lodge, the painstaking efforts he put forth in bringing the drill team to the perfection in military tactics which it attained and the favorable effect which the success of the team had in bringing not only the lodge but also the city of Oakland and its resources to the people of the country.

Modestly Received

The colonel received the merited consideration with becoming and characteristic modesty, stating privately to his friends that the success of his efforts was due to the solidly qualities of the men under his command.

This is the third time that the honor of life membership in the lodge has been conferred and on one of the occasions, the tribute was of an honorary character, the recipient in that instance being Fred Ward, the distinguished tragedian, the time of the conference being when that gentleman laid the corner stone of the Macdonough Theater in the early part of 1911.

Judge Melvin Honored

The second person to be placed on this list of honor was Justice H. A. Melvin, now a member of the supreme bench, who was honored in recognition of his election to the position of grand exalted ruler of the order. At the time, the action of the lodge was indicated, among other ways, by the presentation to the jurist of a gold card setting forth the facts in the case.

BOY OF SIX IN THIRD GRADE AT SCHOOL

Six year old Douglas M. Williams of this city has completed the second grade in his school work, and leaves with an average of 90.

J. D. Williams, the boy's father, an author of some note, recently sent him on a trip to Massachusetts in an endeavor to keep him from his studies. The following note was recently received by the father:

"Dear Papa: School is out and I was promoted to the third grade. Isn't that pretty good for your baby? I have been sick a great deal since I have come to Cambridge, and I will be glad to get home. I have been worried about me. Love from mother and me."

"Your loving little boy," "DOUGLAS M. WILLIAMS."

ACCUSES HUSBAND OF STEALING FLOWERS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Mrs. Stella Meri went out for flowers this morning against Eglio Meri on the ground of extreme cruelty. She declares that on one occasion her husband threatened to strike her with a chair, and that she was at length forced from the house, and compelled to take refuge with her mother at Ocean View.

She asserts that Meri was in the habit of stealing flowers from the railroad depot and bringing them home to her and that he refused to desert and on one occasion was arrested. Meri is engaged in the furniture business.

HYNES ESTATE IS VALUED AT $9000

The will of the late Patrick C. Hynes was filed for probate in the Superior Court this morning. Deceased was a pioneer resident of Oakland and for many years was connected with the Customs Service. The estate is valued at about $9000 and is left entirely to Hynes' only daughter, Jane Frances Martin. Thomas A. Deary is named as executor and Judge Mortimer Smith appears as attorney for the estate.

TURF CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

Jinks and General Good Time Preceded Feast at Which Speeches Are Made

The first annual high jinks and banquet of the Turf Club was held last night in the rooms of the society, 1107 Broadway. It was a "stag" affair and about thirty-five members of the club were present. L. W. Witbeck, president of the organization, was master of ceremonies. He was assisted in arranging the program by H. G. Gunning, secretary, and the directors, E. S. Wilkins and Charles S. Milton.

Those who contributed vocal and instrumental numbers were Leslie McKillop, Mr. Riley, Charles Bowen, Sam Hoffman, Bert Beck, Charles Hyde, Joseph Adams, Frank Wilson, Vernie McPherson, George Rose, Frank Smith, Charles Cosgrove and performers from the Bell Theater.

The banquet, which concluded the musical program was presided over by L. W. Witbeck. The speakers were Roy Davidson, George Ruby, Charles Hyde, Lewis Morgan and George Ducas.

RICE TRIES TO ESCAPE; IS SHOT

New Mexico Fugitive Strikes Down Officer in Jail and May Die

NEEDLES, Cal., July 30.—Chester Rice, the New Mexico fugitive who several days ago made a sensational escape from officers and was recaptured, was shot and wounded by police officers, made another unsuccessful attempt to get away today which resulted in his being probably fatally wounded.

When an officer entered the jail with lunch for the prisoners, Rice struck the officer, a stunt which he jumped through the open cell door. The officer drew his pistol and fired four shots at the fleeing man, one of which struck near the heart, passing through the body.

SAN FRANCISCO SOCIETY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—An engagement that is causing a decided stir in the city is that of Miss Carrie Bauer and Theodore Wore, who has spent more time on the Pacific coast than in San Francisco, is a sister of Captain George Bauer, who is prominent in the naval militia and commanded the Albatross.

Mr. Wore is a well known artist. He has painted portraits at the last Bohemian Club exhibition and has several excellent pieces of work to his credit.

Shakespeare's old adage, "The course of true love never did run smooth" has again proven true, and this time in the case of Miss Bauer and Mr. Wore, who have been relieved from abroad confirming the report, a few weeks ago, that Miss Bauer's engagement to Dr. E. B. Stein is cancelled and she is betrothed to Thomas Hesketh. No one here justifies the engagement, but it is to change her mind, but it is woman's prerogative, so will not be questioned.

One of the most brilliant affairs on the social calendar is the reception at the home of the Albert Sydney Johnston, which the United Daughters of the Confederacy will entertain on Saturday afternoon, August 7. The affair will be held at the residence of Mrs. Selden Wright, in whose honor it will be given.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Danforth and Miss Pannie Danforth have returned from a tour of the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys, and are expected to arrive here on the 31st.

Miss Minna Van Buren has gone to Ukiah, where she is visiting Miss Christine McNab at the McNab ranch. These two chums are having all sorts of good times together, and among other things on the taps is a motor trip through Lake country.

Dr. Morris Horstein is at Lake Tahoe, en route home from Europe, and is expected to arrive August 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brugulere made Mrs. Gertrude Franklin Altherton the guest of honor at a box party a few nights ago at the opera.

Miss Julia Thomas and Miss Sidney Davis expect to leave in a few days for San Diego, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sefton Jr. Mrs. Sefton, who was lately Miss Helen Sefton, has been in the Southern part of the state most of the summer, with occasional motor trips to Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Among the arrivals Wednesday on the Curacao from Mazatlan was Mrs. Isabel de Vries, wife of the former American vice consul at La Paz.

ATTORNEY EDMUND BURKE IS HELD TO ANSWER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Edmund Burke, an attorney, accused of obtaining money under false pretenses, was held to answer to the Superior Court by Police Judge Shortall this morning. Bail was fixed at $1000. The charge upon which Burke was tried was preferred by Harclay Cowan, who alleges that the defendant was paid $50 to turn over to the San Joaquin Abstract Company. This money, he stated, Burke kept himself.

INNES' BAND WILL GIVE WAGNER NIGHT

Another of the popular Wagner nights will be given by the Innes Orchestra band at Idora, "the home of good music," this evening.

A coming feature of the band concerts will be given on Sunday night, when Dr. H. J. Stewart, the noted local composer and Bohemian, will direct the Innes band in two of his compositions, played at the club in 1902. On Monday evening the music will be from the great Russian composers.

INVESTMENT COMPANY FORMALLY ORGANIZED

With a capital stock of $50,000, divided into 5000 shares of the par value of $10 each, the Peninsula Investment Company of Oakland has filed articles of incorporation in the office of the county clerk. The incorporators and directors for the first year are F. D. and A. L. Burr, A. J. and J. M. Moore of Oakland and A. L. Leal of Livermore.

NO MORE ROOM AT THE CITY WHARF

Oakland Transportation Co. is Finally Refused Docking Facilities There

The long effort which has been made with the board of public works of the city by the Oakland Transportation company, with the view of securing a berth at the city wharf for the transaction of its freight business between this city and San Francisco, has been brought to a close and the company in question has been informed that the request cannot be granted for the reason that there is no more room at the wharf at the present time than is required by the California Transportation company and the Eldest company, which are doing business at that place.

Before making the application, the Oakland Transportation company had, as it has at the present time, a berth on the north side of the wharf at a short distance east of Webster street. The object of the company to that place was because it was annoyed by having to experience delay in the opening of the bridge at Webster street both in its trips to the other side of the bay and on its return.

The company, however, has decided to change its berth and on the first of next month will move its headquarters to Adams wharf at the foot of Jackson street, which is otherwise known as the Oakland Dock and Warehouse company.

WOMAN IS STRUCK BY TROLLEY CAR

Mrs. B. A. Calhoun Seriously Injured in Trying to Cross Broadway

Mrs. B. A. Calhoun, a widow, residing on Shattuck avenue near the Berkeley road, met with a painful accident, about 8 o'clock last evening while she was attempting to cross Broadway at Ninth street. She passed around the rear of a white-bound electric car and was struck with terrific force by a south-bound Shattuck avenue car, which knocked her several feet from the track and rendered her unconscious. An inspector of the traction company hurried her to the Receiving Hospital in an ambulance.

Chief Surgeon Hamilton took charge of the case. An examination showed that the woman had sustained a number of lacerations about the head and body, and although no bones appeared to be fractured, there were indications of a possible hemorrhage of the brain. She remained unconscious until this morning, when she was able to sit up and was moved to bed, where she still remains, it not being deemed advisable to move her. She had recovered sufficiently this morning to disclose her identity, but her condition is still precarious.

TO ADD 20,000 LIGHTS TO PARK

Banners For State Fair to Be Strung From Bay to Berkeley

At the coming Auxiliary State Fair, which will be held in the foot of the park, between September 15 and October 2, the park will be literally ablaze with lights. The members of the committee in charge of the fair, at a meeting of the directors, unanimously adopted a resolution asking the Board of Public Works to grant the management of the park permission to hang beautiful banners from the cross wires of the Oakland and Traction Company from the foot of Broadway to Bancroft way, Berkeley, setting forth the features of the fair and stating that it was their desire to increase the number of electric lights now in the park by 20,000.

The matter of illuminating large spaces state that at no time in this state has there been such a large illumination of a given spot as will be afforded by this addition to the thousands of lights which are strung in the park enclosure.

The request was granted unanimously.

Use Hot Lamp Chimneys in Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—James Lee and his wife, Georgia, of 940 B Harrison street, indulged in an argument at the breakfast table this morning over the electric light bulbs.

Their controversy became heated, so heated in fact that each pulled a lamp chimney from its socket and in a burning lamp and attacked each other with these novel weapons, in lieu of better ones. The parabolic condition of their blood prevented them from realizing that their fingers had been burned as well as afterwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee were removed to the Central Emergency Hospital by Policeman J. A. Amear, where the former was treated for lacerated wounds of the left forearm and abrasions of the left side of the face. Georgia was treated for lacerated incised wounds of the left temple and ear. Lee was then locked up at the Southern Police Station charged with being drunk, while his better half was allowed to go home.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY TO RESUME MEETINGS

After a vacation of one month, the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society, Branch No. 27, will meet Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. J. Harrigan, 7 Orange avenue. For the past year the society has been accomplishing much good work among the sick and needy. The branch is growing and is now in the midst of anthropic circles. Miss H. S. Knapp is president of the society and with a corps of able officers and members, the organization is alleviating much suffering in this community.

GRANTED DIVORCE ON GROUND OF DESERTION

Superior Judge Waste this morning granted Mary E. Ross of 702 Telegraph avenue a final decree of divorce from Sidney D. Ross, a non-resident, on the ground of desertion. The couple was married in British Columbia in October, 1896, and three years later Ross left his wife and has remained away from her ever since.

FELL THREE STORIES AND WAS NOT HURT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Louis Weinhard, residing at 1318th Street, Colma, believes he has a charmed life. He fell three stories today from a scaffold upon which he was working at Sacramento street and was uninjured.

SALT LAKE CAPITALIST BUYS OAKLAND BUSINESS BLOCK

Property Corner of Twelfth and Franklin Streets Changes Hands for $125,000 in Cash.

A deed from Margaret Giffin to E. A. Whitaker was recorded yesterday afternoon conveying lot, size 100x100 feet, situated at the southeast corner of Twelfth and Franklin streets. The consideration of the deed was $125,000, but it is understood that the property brought $125,000 in cash. The property is improved with a three-story brick building and is well known as the Lyman building, consisting of five stories and four lodge rooms.

Mr. J. Layman of Layman Real Estate Company, whose firm negotiated the deal, representing both buyer and seller, when asked what improvements if any would be made on the property, said that it was the intention of Mr. Whitaker to thoroughly renovate the property where leases would permit and put the property in keeping with a modern business street, into which Twelfth and Franklin streets are now developing.

Mr. Layman also stated that Mr. Whitaker is a good example of what new money means to this city. Mr. Whitaker is a Salt Lake capitalist, who, while locating in Oakland, thinks as well of this city as he does of his native Utah, and while he has not built any new structures, he has modernized the buildings purchased and brought them up to a high rate of efficiency.

Mr. Whitaker also congratulated himself as not having made any mistake in investing in Oakland real estate, as all of his purchases have proved to be good investments as to rate of interest paid and have given him a profitable increase in value as could be expected in any city in the country. The best evidence of Mr. Whitaker's confidence in the future of Oakland is the recent selling of choice business property in the splendid city of Salt Lake and reinvesting the same in Oakland business property.

and collectively largely advertised the city of Oakland and the County of Alameda by constantly making known their advantages, and:

"Whereas, The drill team of Oakland Lodge No. 171 B. P. O. E., by its proficiency for its athletic, secured a prize which is to be spread over the entire lodge of Elks in the universe, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, realizing the value of this advertising to the city of Oakland, hereby express its appreciation of the same and extends its thanks to Oakland Lodge No. 171, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, and be it further

"Resolved, That these resolutions be forwarded to Oakland Lodge of Elks and a copy be spread upon the records."

The instrument was signed by President J. H. Clay and Secretary Edwin Stearns.

DELMONICO ICE CREAM WILL BE MADE BY LEHNHARDT NEXT SUNDAY

"NO MORE DELMONICO BRICKS THIS YEAR AFTER NEXT SUNDAY --- EGGS ARE TOO HIGH," SAYS POPULAR CANDY MAKER---ALL HOUSEKEEPERS ADVISED TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS DESSERT, AS IT IS UNQUESTIONABLY THE FINEST LEHNHARDT MAKES.

"Next Sunday will be the last Sunday for many months that I will make Delmonico ice cream," said Lehnhardt, the candy man, to a TRIBUNE representative this morning. "Eggs are already so high that I really should not make this dessert for next Sunday, but so many of my customers have asked me to make it again that I have consented. But I want to tell you one thing, and that is that I can't make it again for a long time. I am going to have crushed fresh strawberries for the center layer, which will make the finest brick of ice cream I can possibly manufacture. In fact, I couldn't make a better brick if I spent $100 a piece to make them."

Delmonico ice cream is the dessert that had more to do toward making Lehnhardt's desserts famous than anything else. He secured the recipe after the dish had made a tremendous hit in New York, and it is said that he is now making it better than it was when served at Delmonico's at 75c a slice.

"I remember this dish as served by Delmonico's," said a well-known epicure today, "and I think Lehnhardt has improved it wonderfully. In the first place, his cream seems to be richer, giving the brick a smoother, finer grain, and, in the second place, the combination with fresh crushed strawberries adds greatly to its flavor balance. I believe the people of Oakland and do not appreciate this dessert unless they try it. If they did, Lehnhardt would be swamped with orders before 1 o'clock Sunday morning. To my mind, it is unquestionably the most delicious frozen dessert ever made, and I think Lehnhardt was much more in New York instead of Oakland, where he would spread all over the United States."

Lehnhardt sells these bricks for 50c each if called for on Sunday or any day next week, or for 80c each if delivered packed in a freezer in ice. Each brick contains a full quart or sufficient for 8 or 10 people.

Those who desire to order them delivered on Sunday should phone their orders in tonight, as the rush is liable to be greater than Mr. Lehnhardt's facilities can care for, and naturally those who order too late will have to call at the store and carry their brick home instead of having it delivered. Lehnhardt's telephone numbers are Oakland 497 and Home phone A 3497.

100 DOLLARS FOR A GOOD STOMACH

This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspaper and medical journals recently have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable.

His misfortune serves as a warning to others.

Everyone who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices. There is one element missing. The absence of this destroys the function of the gastric fluids. They lose their power to digest food.

We are now able to supply the missing element—to restore to the gastric juices their digestive power, and to make the stomach strong and well.

We know that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will positively and permanently cure disordered stomachs, indigestion and dyspepsia.

We want you to try them and will return your money if you are not more than satisfied with the result.

Price 25 cents. Only at our store, or by mail. The Owl Drug Co.'s three stores—12th and Broadway, 14th and Washington and 18th and San Pablo avenue.

DR. ROGERS MAY

ACCEPT OFFICE

Likely to Be Offered Vacancy on Alameda Board of Health

ALAMEDA, July 30.—Dr. J. T. Rogers of San Jose avenue and Park street will be asked to accept the vacant position on the Board of Health. This was stated by Dr. James A. Ellis, member of the Board of Health, today. Dr. Rogers has been a resident of this city for three months. He came from Nevada County, and settled in this city for the benefit of his health.

When asked whether or not he would accept the appointment, Dr. Rogers said: "I have heard anything from the Board of Health in regard to the appointment, although I am acquainted with all its members and have talked with them on conditions existing in this city and the work of the health board. I can not say whether or not I will become affiliated with the Board of Health until I am tendered the position."

Dr. Ellis said: "Dr. Rogers' name has been suggested to fill the vacancy on the Board of Health. It is not absolutely essential to have another physician on the board, but the city clerk calls for five members and there is sufficient work for this number."

TO GIVE SONG RECITAL.

BERKELEY, July 30.—One of the interesting features of the song recital to be given in Hearst Hall tonight by Mrs. M. E. Blanchard is a group of four songs taken from the works of Shakespeare. The compositions have been included in the program because of the fact that the last three entertainments of the summer session have been devoted to Shakespearean subjects. Miss Edna Williams, pianist, will accompany Mrs. Blanchard.

CORRECTS ERROR.

Mrs. Minnie Davis of the Pleasanton Hotel, who was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce yesterday from Arthur Davis, says that her husband is not a negro, as has been stated, but a Welshman. Mrs. Davis alleges that her husband attempted to kill her.

STRENGTH FOR THE STOMACH

A Philadelphia Man Tells What the Tonic Treatment Did For Him.

The experience of sufferers from stomach trouble, who have tried the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, has been that their trouble has disappeared as soon as the blood was made pure. The numerous disorders of the stomach, as catarrh of the stomach, acid stomach, nervous dyspepsia, neuralgia of the stomach, gastritis, and lack of tone, have the same underlying cause—impure blood.

Each case the stomach is weak. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply the stomach with the strength it needs by enriching and purifying the blood. Pure blood gives tone to the nerves, muscles, and glands of the stomach and makes it able to properly perform the work of digestion.

Mr. Thomas J. Young, No. 1248 Callowhill street, Philadelphia, Pa., says:

"While working in a wholesale house in Liverpool, England, some years ago, I was afflicted with stomach trouble and suffered from constipation, bad breath and sick headaches. I was forced to be absent from business for a week at a time. Food nauseated me and would fasten like a weight on my stomach. My complexion became sallow. I had palpitation of the heart upon the least exertion and was so nervous that the turning of a door would cause me to tremble like a leaf. I could not sleep well but would wake up suddenly very often through the night, and had a great deal of headache and dizziness.

I was under the care of a doctor about two years, but received only slight relief. I also tried many medicines and weakened myself by using cathartics. When I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the paper I determined to give them a trial. I carefully followed the directions with the result that I soon became my normal self and put on flesh rapidly. This happened five years ago and I have never had a recurrence of the trouble."

Our diet book is sent free to anyone upon postal card request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Musicians Pleased With Oakland; to Make Home Here

Madam Aurora Thompson, who will make her home in Oakland.

Madam Aurora Thompson arrived in Oakland on July 19 and is so pleased with the city that she has decided to make her home here. She comes from England and is a graduate of the Guild Hall School of Music. She is a charming woman and will doubtless be an acquisition to local musical circles.

WAGNER PROGRAM AT LAST CONCERT

Final Musical Entertainment of Summer Session to Be Given Saturday

BERKELEY, July 30.—With a greatly augmented band, Paul Steindorff will present a Wagner program tomorrow evening at the last of the series of popular Saturday night band concerts, which have been given in the Hearst Greek Theater during the summer session. Many of the best works of the famous German master will be played. Director Steindorff declares that Saturday evening's concert will be the best of the series.

It is expected that the largest crowd of the summer season will attend, as Saturday is the last day of the summer school at the University of California, and many of the students are preparing to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing this impressive Wagnerian festival before leaving for their homes.

The program for the concert is an attractive one, and includes two solos, the Song to the Evening Star, from "Tannhauser," and Walther's prize song from "Die Meistersinger."

The program will be: Kriemhild's overture, "Rienzi," Albin Lenz, Grand Fantasia, "Die Meistersinger," Song to the Evening Star, from "Tannhauser," Walther's prize song, from "Die Meistersinger," grand selection, "Die Walkure"; Walther's prize song from "Die Meistersinger," W. Mahood, cornet soloist; overture, "Tannhauser." The concert will begin at 8:15.

ATHLETIC GRANDMOTHER IS HEROINE OF A RESCUE

NEW YORK, July 30.—Mrs. J. Carlin of Hurler Terrace, Carlton, L. I., does not permit the fact that she is a grandmother to interfere with her athletic prowess. She proved the fact yesterday by rescuing her granddaughter, Miss Bertha Delmonico, from drowning in Flatbush bay.

The athletic grandmother almost lost her own life in the accomplishment of the feat. That, however, was due to the fact that her granddaughter lost her presence of mind and nearly choked her rescuer in the water.

Grandmother and granddaughter were both unconscious when they were pulled to the shore. The elder woman revived almost immediately, but required nearly three hours to resuscitate the granddaughter.

APPROVE OF RAISE IN SALARIES OF DEPUTIES

The Auditing and Finance Committee of the City Council recommended last night that the salaries of the chief deputy treasurer and the chief deputy auditor be raised from $150 a month to $200 a month. A condition precedent to the raise in salaries was the promise on the part of Auditor Gross and Treasurer Mease that they would not, during the coming year, ask for the raise of the salaries of any other deputies under them.

The beneficiaries of the resolution are Chief Deputy Treasurer Fitzmaurice and Chief Deputy Auditor Waide. Both have made good records in their respective capacities and the raise in salary was based purely on merit.

IN SOCIETY

MISS MABELLE GENTRY, Whose Engagement to Albert G. Bernard is Announced.

—Cutbush Photo.

The engagement is announced today of Miss Mabelle Gentry and Albert G. Bernard. Miss Gentry is the daughter of the late Mr. Gentry, a prominent East Oakland family. She is a graduate of the Oakland high school and is popular among all who know her for her pleasant disposition and her attractive personality. She is a member of the Church of the Advent and of the Oakland Y. W. C. A. and is an active part in the social life of this society.

Mr. Bernard is a son of the late Mr. Bernard, a prominent business man in the city. He is a graduate of the University of California and is now a member of the law firm of Bernard, Brown & Co. He is a member of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. and is an active part in the social life of this society.

The date for the wedding of Miss Gentry and Mr. Bernard has not yet been decided. It is expected that the wedding will take place in the near future.

FOR BRIDE-ELECT. Mrs. Lewis P. Harris was entertained today at her home on East Nineteenth street in honor of Miss Mabelle Gentry, a bride-to-be, and Mrs. Walter D. Allen, a visitor from Washington, D. C.

The guest list included only a score or so of intimates and friends, and the occasion was a most enjoyable one. The bride-elect was the center of attraction, and the evening was spent in a most pleasant manner.

PLAN NEXT WEDDING. Miss Alice Navar plans to have a party tomorrow at her home on East Nineteenth street in honor of Miss Mabelle Gentry, a bride-to-be, and Mrs. Walter D. Allen, a visitor from Washington, D. C.

The party will be a most enjoyable one, and the bride-elect will be the center of attraction. The evening will be spent in a most pleasant manner.

RETURN FROM YOSEMITE. Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Lewis have returned from a delightful trip to the Yosemite Valley. They were accompanied by their children and were most successful in their trip.

A HOME COMING. Mrs. Edward von Muehl is expected home tomorrow after spending the month of July on a vacation in Nevada. She had a most enjoyable trip and will be glad to be home.

IN FRUITFULNESS. Mrs. William Dougherty has as her house guests her mother, Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Conner, who are spending a month or so in the hospitable Fruitful home.

Several pleasant affairs are being planned for the coming week, and the members of the club are looking forward to them with interest.

AFTERNOON AT BRIDGE. Mrs. Frederick Foster has sent out cards for an afternoon at bridge at which she plans to entertain on Tuesday next in compliment to her cousin, Miss Adelaide Foster of Chicago.

RETURN FROM ALTA. Miss Maude Edith Pope has returned after spending the summer at Lake Alta, where she was entertained and had a most delightful visit. She will be glad to be home.

GUESTS AT MARE ISLAND. The younger officers of the West Virginia are entertaining a congenial group of the younger members of Oakland's smart set today at a pleasantly planned luncheon at Mare Island. Miss Eliza McMillen, Miss Marion Stone, Miss Innes Kenney and Mrs. Sue Nohel composed the party, with Mrs. Norris, Miss McMillen's mother, as chaperone.

TO ENTERTAIN TOMORROW. The home of the H. C. Dukes of Sixty-fifth street will be the scene of a gathering of bright, sweet girls tomorrow, when Miss Maude Dukes will entertain the members of the young ladies' class of the Trinity Methodist Church of Berkeley and a few outside friends, about thirty-five guests in all. There is to be some excellent music, for many of the girls play and sing remarkably well. Among those to contribute to the pleasures of the afternoon will be Miss Olive Moulton and Miss Alice Andrews, two gifted singers, who appear quite frequently at club and social affairs.

FOR DISTINGUISHED GUESTS. The Home Club in East Oakland will be the scene of a gathering of distinguished guests tomorrow evening. The guests will include Mrs. Lewis P. Harris, Mrs. Walter D. Allen, and Mrs. Mabelle Gentry.

"TYPHOID MARY" SAYS THAT SHE IS PERSECUTED

Says That She Is Persecuted

NEW YORK, July 28.—"Before God and in the eyes of decent men my name is Mary Mallon. I was christened and baptized Mary Mallon. I lived under the name of Mary Mallon until I was seized by the health department of the city of New York, two years and four months ago, locked up in a pesthouse and re-christened 'Typhoid Mary.'"

Dramatically raising her hands, Mary Mallon opened her lips for the first time to tell the story of her incarceration in the pesthouse at North Brother Island, although she has never been sick a day in her life.

The confinement of two and a half years, which by the refusal of Justice Erlanger last week to release her seems to indicate the life she will live until she dies, has little changed Mary Mallon from the stout, jovial cook who was loved by the children in every family in which she was employed.

In spite of the fact that the health department swears she scatters typhoid bacilli everywhere she goes, Mary is permitted the freedom of the island, and the doctors are glad to have her nurse the children who are there with every kind of contagious disease.

"All the water in the ocean wouldn't clear me from this charge, in the eyes of the health department," Mary told the reporter. "They want to make a showing of the rich and I am the victim. It is a huge bluff, and nothing more."

"Dr. Soper, in his report which brought me to where I am, maintains seven or eight cases where typhoid occurred in families where I had worked. He did not mention the families I worked for in which there was no typhoid."

"Will I submit quietly to staying here a prisoner all my life? No! As there is a God in heaven I will get justice, somehow, some time. A few more years of this life and I will go insane. With what do I occupy my time? Oh, I get up in the morning, fix my room, eat my breakfast and then wait until it is time to go to bed again. Often I help nurse the other patients on the island and often the children will have no one else take care of them when they are very sick."

"Dr. Soper says in his report that the secretions from my body are examined every day, but it is not so. But every time the health department examines me I send specimens by a friend to a specialist in New York. The health department report always comes back stating that typhoid bacilli have been found. From the same specimens my own specialist, who is at the head of his profession, reports that he had found none."

Girl Too Proud to Beg, Sleeps in the Woods

NEW YORK, July 28.—Too proud to accept assistance offered her, Alice Marshall, a beautiful girl of 27, who for two weeks has been sleeping in the woods and hares about College Point, was sent to the House of the Good Shepherd at her own request yesterday by Magistrate Connelly, of Flushing.

Two years ago her father left her and her sister, Carrie, at College Point to make a living for themselves. For the good name of both father and daughter, Marshall, of St. Patrick's church, College Point, says he can touch.

Alice worked for the first year and a half, earning never more than $3 a week and living on what she earned. But the hard work, the scanty meals and the worry told on the girl and about two months ago she gave up her job. She saw that she was taken care of by the Dominican Sisters. Two weeks ago, unwilling to be dependent, she left the convent to earn her living again.

But the girl was weaker than she thought and, unable to find work and too proud to ask for further assistance, she lived for about ten days in a freight car, another in the woods or in any place she could find where she would be undisturbed.

GREENWICH, Conn., July 28.—Emily Ardine Hammond, former actress, who is accused by Mrs. Frank Rogers of having taken her husband away from her and who has sued for separation and alimony of $5000 a year, has made a statement of her troubles with her husband which began ten years ago.

As she sat on the veranda of the Elbert Reynolds cottage, laced for the summer by Boyer, she spoke of her troubles calmly while stroking the head of Plank W. Boyer Jr., a sturdy little chap born three years ago.

Sunday night Boyer told Elbert Reynolds he had received a telegram calling him to California on urgent business, and he went away the following day. Mrs. Reynolds called that evening upon Mrs. Boyer, as she is known in Greenwich, and found her in tears. She seemed greatly upset at Boyer's departure and would not be comforted.

Mrs. Reynolds was a frequent caller at the house, and Mrs. Boyer said that yesterday she had not until yesterday's newspapers arrived in the village that any one suspected another Mrs. Boyer existed.

"I consider that I am Mr. Boyer's legal wife by right of love," said the former actress. "Would you not think that a woman, well knowing her husband no longer cares for her, but is in love with another, would obtain a divorce? I would. As I consider him my husband, so he considers me his wife."

"There is no other Mrs. Boyer," she went on, "that is, so far as I am concerned. Only the laws of man stand between us, and these we did not make. We are responsible for what has happened, and for certain things which have transpired."

Asked if she had ever married Boyer the young woman replied she could not answer the question.

GERTRUDE PROMISES TO DON MORE CLOTHES

GERTRUDE HOFFMAN.

Gertrude Hoffman, the "Mendelssohn Spring Dance" specialist, famous principally for her abbreviated attire worn therein, who was arrested in New York just after she had exhibited her twinkling toes on Hammerstein's roof garden, was released until August on the promise that she'll lengthen her tights.

Miss Hoffman was arrested under a section of the Penal Code relating to indecent performances. To a police station Miss Hoffman journeyed, apparently on the verge of tears, there to be bailed out by George Considine, the well known sporting man. The dancer protested that it was rather late for police interference, in that she had been doing the same thing for some time past, both this season and last.

NEW YORK, July 28.—"Silence! A Splunkike, wooden, impenetrable silence, which has been broken by the utterance of hardly a single word in the four years since the mumbled response to his wedding in the season 1904. J. Beckman of Astoria, Ark. is being sued by Mrs. Lizzie Beckman for divorce.

For four years Mrs. Beckman has tried by every artifice known to woman to make her husband talk, but in her testimony before Judge Charles J. Parker yesterday she admitted that she had failed. At first she sneered at his hand and checked him under the chin, but the only response she got was a stony stare.

The Beckmans were married in 1905 at 1 o'clock in the morning at the wedding breakfast Beckman, after murmuring what was taken for an apology, hurried off to work. When he came back in the evening his bride met him at the door with an affectate smile. Beckman returned the smile and hurried into the house, where he sat down. Mrs. Beckman started the conversation with a remark about the weather. From this she led up to a question of what he would like for dinner, but she got no answer to any of her conversation.

At last she wept, but even the tears failed to melt her husband's silence or to abate the stony stare.

Why Beckman has not spoken is a mystery to every one in Astoria, Ark. A dozen neighbors testified that they had not heard him utter more than a curt "yes" or "no" in the last ten years.

Becoming desperate at the silence which persisted for four years, Mrs. Beckman has not cared very much at late what her husband would say when he finally did consent to open his mouth. She tried burning the soup still Beckman was silent. She put salt in his coffee, but he drank it without a word.

How Beckman managed his courtship is a mystery in Astoria, Ark., although Mrs. Beckman may have felt then that she was able to do all the talking for the pair, but after her marriage she found little satisfaction in talking to a man who refused to answer. She couldn't even quarrel with him. He refused to express any opinion about his clothes or hats.

All the time he spent in the house he sat and stared straight in front of him. When an important matter came up for consideration he would sometimes descend to shake his head and indicate his opinion in this way. Once — it was a red letter day for it was then — he moved his lips as if about to say something, but evidently changing his mind, closed his lips again.

Not even the landlord could get a word out of Mr. Beckman when he came to collect the rent.

Still adhering to his policy of silence, Beckman has interposed no answer to his wife's suit for divorce, and the referee will recommend that Mrs. Beckman be given a divorce.

Loses Champion Mean Man

NEW YORK, July 28.—At noon today a decree of divorce had been granted that was received yesterday by Mrs. Minnie Eckhard of No 221 East Kinney street, Newark, New Jersey. Mrs. Eckhard instituted proceedings to be freed from Henry Eckhard, a lawyer, on the ground of cruelty and desertion. The suit was not contested.

In her testimony Mrs. Eckhard described her husband to be the "champion champion" of the city. He was a habit of making a count every day of the number of potatoes, eggs and other articles of food she used for the family, and if she cooked one more egg or a few more beans than he thought she should, he would penalize her by withholding money from the next week's household expenses. She claimed Eckhard deserted her in October 1908.

ACTRESS DECLARES BOYER IS HERS BY RIGHT OF LOVE

Girl Arrested While Hunting a Pot of Gold

NEW YORK, July 28.—When Artina Sandron, a pretty Finnish girl of No 384 West Fifty-eighth street, was asked by Judge O'Sullivan in General Sessions yesterday why she had entered the rooms of Mrs. Minnie Henry at No 150 West One Hundred and Third street, the girl answered: "A fortune told me to do it."

Miss Miner, a probation officer, told Judge O'Sullivan that she believed the girl's story. Miss Miner said the girl only been in the country a few months and on May 12 went to the fortune teller to have a dream explained.

The seer, according to the girl, directed her to go to No 150 West One Hundred and Third street, where she would find a pot of gold. If the door was locked, the fortune teller told the girl, she was to force an entrance.

The girl said she did as she was directed, and she did not explain why she packed up a number of dresses and pieces of jewelry which belonged to Mrs. Henry before she was arrested.

Judge O'Sullivan discharged the girl.

Pays Her $100 for a Kiss

WINSTED, Conn., July 28.—Theodore Toussaint, an aged widower, whose home is in East Canaan, paid $100 for a kiss. The woman who got the kiss and his money, Mrs. John Kilmer, told a neighbor, it is said, that she wished she had demanded $500. She declared that when the old man paid her the $100 in settlement of the stolen kiss case, he had a big roll of greenbacks, and most of them were in large denomination.

In consideration of the afore-said sum Mrs. Kilmer agreed not to bring any action against Toussaint, who is 72 years old.

Mrs. Kilmer, who is about 40, is a successful form and pretty face. Lives in a house owned by Toussaint, with her husband, who is employed by the New Britain and Danbury roads.

CONFEREES SUBMIT AGREEMENT FINALLY REACHED BY THEM

PAYNE-ALDRICH TARIFF BILL IS READY FOR SECOND JOURNEY THROUGH CONGRESS
General Increase Shown in Duty on Necessities

WASHINGTON, July 30.—When Representative Payne, head of the House conferees on the tariff bill which bears his name, rose in the House today to present the report of the conference committee of the two houses on the bill, the measure had been in conference for just three weeks. Proceeding on the theory that the bill marks a general downward tendency from the rates of duty, Mr. Payne presented, but did not read, an exhaustive analysis of its provisions. This statement, he said, had been prepared by himself and he asked to have it printed as an official document. There was objection, however, from the Democratic side and the printing was prevented for the time. In this statement Payne undertook to show that there had been a marked decrease in the rates on the necessities of life, while admitting that there had been an increase on luxuries.

Probably the most marked reductions as a result of the action of the two houses and of the conference committee are found in the metal schedule. Beginning with a decrease in the rates of iron ore from forty to fifteen cents per ton, there is a general reduction throughout that portion of the bill, pig iron going down from $4 to $2.30 per ton and scrap iron from $4 to $1.

The reduction on many of the items in this schedule amounts to about fifty per cent and this reduction includes structural steel rails. There is an increase on a slight increase on metals, nippers and pliers, and on such new metals as tungsten. Rough lumber goes down from $2 to $1.25 per thousand feet with a corresponding reduction in the differential on dressed lumber.

Wool the Same
The wool schedule underwent no change of consequence, but the entire cotton schedule was reconstructed and the paraphrasing greatly changed in the hope of preventing reductions through decisions by the courts such as have characterized the administration of the Dingley law during the last year.

In many instances the Dingley rates were cut by these decisions, in some instances from fifty per cent to eight per cent ad valorem. It is estimated that the rates fixed by the bill are about three per cent higher upon an average than collected on cottons last year. The rates on cottons are generally increased.

Gloves Go Down
In the matter of gloves the high protectionists fall to score. They sought, through an increase made by the House, to raise the duty materially above the Dingley figures, but were antagonized by the Senate and the Senate won, the only change made in the entire schedule being one slight reduction.

The silk schedule was reconstructed with a view to imposing specific rather than ad valorem duties with the result that the average duty will be somewhat higher under the new law.

Oil cloths and linoleum are heavily cut, but otherwise the changes in the wax, hemp and jute provisions were not material.

Tobacco Unchanged
Sugar and tobacco duties remain substantially as they are under the Dingley law. The free importation of considerable quantities of both of these articles from the Philippines is permitted and the material change is made in the internal revenue law by an amendment taking the tax off of the sale of tobacco in the hand.

There is a uniform increase on spirits, wines and liquors of fifteen per cent. In the agricultural schedule hops are increased from twelve to fifteen cents a pound and there is also an increase on lemons, figs, almonds and pineapples.

Publishers Win
The publishers in their fight for lower wood pulp and print paper, the rate on the ordinary news print paper being fixed at $2.75 per ton instead of $3, as under the Dingley law and on the higher grades of print paper at $3.75, instead of $4. Mechanically ground wood pulp is to come in free of duty instead of paying one-twelfth of a cent a pound as under the Dingley law, but provision is made for a countervailing duty in case the country against which the bill is passed exports to the United States.

Hides Free
Hides come in free and there is a corresponding reduction on leather and on leather goods. The House rates are practically retained on sole leather, leather for uppers, boots and shoes and harness, but the free hides provision is based on the provision that on and after October 1, 1909, sole leather from the hides that are to be admitted free will pay a duty of five per cent, grain, buff and split leather seven and one-half per cent, which is made on such hides, ten per cent, and harness and saddlery, twenty per cent on harness and saddlery, twenty per cent on sole leather and twenty and one-half per cent on leather for uppers if made from the hides that are put on the free list by the provision.

Cut in Coal
Bituminous coal is reduced from sixty-seven cents per ton to forty-five cents and there is also a reduction on gunpowder, matches and cartridges. Agricultural implements go off from twenty per cent ad valorem to fifteen per cent and the other works of art are placed upon the free list.

Petroleum slips through without any duty and most of its products come in under the same terms.

Administrative Features
The administrative features of the bill were much changed in conference. The commission of experts provided by the Senate was retained in name, but its duties are restricted to investigating discriminations against the United States by other countries for the benefit of the President in administering the maximum and minimum rate provision and of government officers in administering the customs laws.

The Senate's maximum and minimum provision was retained in the main. It provides an increased duty amounting to twenty per cent ad valorem on goods brought into the United States from countries discriminating against this country.

The drawback provision of the Dingley law was restored with a slight addition controlling the use of alcohol in articles for export.

The customs court was retained and its headquarters fixed in Washington. The principal difficulty in the way of a clearly detailed comparison between the present so-called Dingley law and the new bill lies in the fact that in most of the more important and sharply contested provisions and schedules, a radical rearrangement of classification and a shifting from specific to ad valorem duties, leave few common terms for comparison.

Conferees' Report
Physically all the administrative features of the tariff bill adopted in the Senate were accepted by the conferees. They include a new maximum and minimum feature, a corporation tax law instead of the inheritance tax adopted by the House, a provision for a bond issue to raise money to build the Panama Canal as well as numerous other features.

The maximum and minimum provision prescribes duties in accordance with the rates of duty in the dutiable list until March 31, 1910, when twenty-five per cent ad valorem is to be added automatically as the maximum duty. The President is authorized to apply the minimum duty, however, to imports from a country which has been cut from the United States products, and is made the judge as to whether a foreign country accords to the United States treatment reciprocal and equivalent. When the President determines that such a country exists he is to issue a proclamation putting in effect the minimum rates.

Power of President
The President is empowered to employ such persons as may be required to secure information to assist him in discharging the duties imposed upon him and information which will be useful to officers in administering the customs laws. The reciprocity treaty with Cuba is not affected.

The President is empowered also to abrogate those reciprocity treaties which can be determined by diplomatic action. It is made the duty to give ten days' notice of his intention to bring those treaties to an end. All other treaties containing no stipulation in regard to their termination by diplomatic action shall be terminated by notice of six months from the President to those countries, the notice dating from April 30, 1909, on which date Secretary Knox notified foreign governments that the United States would soon ask them to enter into new tariff relations.

Philippine Trade
The Philippine free trade provision provides for the free importation of all articles "the growth or product of, or from material the growth or product of, the Philippine Islands or the United States, or both, or which do not contain foreign materials to the value of more than twenty per cent of their total value."

There is the only exception to the free provisions, but restrictions are placed upon sugar and tobacco. The free importation of sugar is limited to 300,000 tons, and the free importation of tobacco is limited to 100,000 tons, on filler tobacco 1,000,000 pounds, and on cigars 150,000,000. A provision is included in the bill which levies on all articles upon which the foreign country pays a bounty or grant upon its exportation, an additional duty equal to the amount of such bounty.

Articles Stamped
It is required that all imported articles capable of being marked without impairment of their value shall be stamped with the name of the manufacturer and the country of origin.

A very elaborate provision for the administration of customs laws was adopted. It is intended to prevent undervaluation of articles on which there is a foreign market by which true values may be ascertained.

Provision is made for a customs court of appeals, with headquarters in Washington. It will comprise a presiding judge and four associate judges at salaries of $10,000 a year.

Tobacco Tax
The internal revenue tax on tobacco is amended, making the rates on chewing and smoking tobacco eight cents a pound. No change was made in the tax on cigars, except those weighing under three pounds per thousand, which were increased from fifty-four to seventy-five cents a thousand. The rates on cigarettes were increased to $1.25 per thousand. A prohibition against the use of coupons or special gift pledges is incorporated in the new law.

The provision granting farmers the free sale of leaf tobacco places restrictions on the retail dealer which require him to record every sale amounting to two pounds or more to one person in one day. A number of other provisions of this section adopted by the conference committee, by which it was intended to prevent any frauds upon the internal revenues and at the same time give as much of a local market as possible to the tobacco grower.

Foreign Yachts
Foreign built yachts are subjected to an excise tax of $7 per gross ton, which is to be collected annually on the first day of September. In lieu of the excise tax the owner of a foreign built yacht or pleasure boat may pay a duty of thirty-five per cent ad valorem on his yacht. This will entitle him to American registration. This provision was adopted because some question had been raised as to the extent of the government to collect import duties.

Corporation Tax
Every corporation, joint stock company or association organized for profit and every insurance company is required to pay annually an excise tax of one per cent upon its entire net income over and above $5000. This feature was put into the bill to raise additional revenue to apply to the treasury deficit. It provides for the refunding of the tax to the government if the corporation is sold or otherwise disposed of.

The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to issue Panama Canal bonds to the amount of $200,000,000, which sum, together with that already expended, equals the estimated cost of the Panama Canal. It is not intended that the bonds shall be used except as needed to provide money to carry on the work of canal construction.

The bonds are to be payable fifty years from the date of issue and will bear interest not exceeding four per cent. When the bonds are sold the Secretary is to store to the working balance the $50,000,000 paid originally for the canal property and the canal zone.

Authorizing the issuance of treasury certificates for money borrowed to meet public expenditures increases the amount of authorization from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000. A large number of other provisions that are in force are included in the conference bill with changes in phrasing in several cases.

The drawback provision of the Dingley law is incorporated in the conference bill, which is intended to permit the substitution of domestic material in the manufacture of articles for export to the same quantity that the imported material was used in the manufacture of similar articles under the Dingley law. An additional provision was adopted entitling users of domestic alcohol in the manufacture of perfumery and other articles to secure a drawback of interest on the amount of the alcohol used in an export article.

Representative Payne made a statement comparing an analysis of the bill, showing both the increases and the decreases, but this was preceded by a general summary of the bill, which he undertook to show the extent of the increases and decreases according to schedule.

According to this showing the total increases were on imports valued at $55,219,329 and the total decreases on imports amounted to $4,975,122,234.

Table Submitted
He then gave the following table, which shows the consumption value of articles on which rates of duty have been increased and decreased in all cases where the amount of production could be ascertained:

Articles	Duty	Duty
Chemicals	Decreased	Increased
Baththermometers	$47,099,846	$14,115,820
Barbituric acid	125,421,472	11,423,256
Metals	1,245,209,169	31,230,372
Lumber	556,879,559	31,230,372
Sugar	300,965,453	No change
Tobacco	No change	No change
Agricultural products	485,430,637	4,330,045
Wines and liquors	462,901,858	41,622,024
Cotton	41,622,024	41,622,024
Lamp, lamp, etc.	22,127,145	No change
Wool	No change	No change
Silk	7,947,566	106,742,646
Tea and pulp	67,828,055	81,436,464
Sundries	1,719,420,000	101,616,088

Totals ..... $3,972,122,124 $292,912,023

Of the above increases the following are luxuries:

Articles	Duty	Duty
Chemicals, including perfumery	Increased	Increased
Wines and liquors	Increased	Increased
Silk	Increased	Increased

Totals ..... $79,850,322

The following are luxuries of increases, not of luxuries, of $272,662,262.

Payne's Assurance
Payne gave assurance that in preparing this bill the exports had used all of the available information from the census office and other sources.

"But all of these," he said, "are not sufficient to present the total consumption of either class of articles. If the total consumption were available, the contrast between the amount of goods on which duties were lowered and those increased would be still more striking."

Chemicals
Taking up the schedules in their order he gave, first, the increases and then the decreases. The figures in all cases were comparisons with the Dingley law. In schedule A, relating to chemicals, he gave the increases as follows:

Liquid anhydrous ammonia from 25 per cent ad valorem to 5 cents per pound. Manufacturers of colloidum, increased 5 per cent. Cocoa leaves increased 9 cents per pound. Fancy soaps increased from 15 cents per pound to 50 per cent ad valorem.

CITIZENS GIVE MARKER A RECEPTION

Missing Lipton Cashier Greeted on His Sudden Return by Neighbors

WILL NOT DISCUSS THE MISSING $100,000

Says He Welcomes the Advent of Federal Officers to Put Him Under Arrest

LIPTON, Ind., July 30.—Noah Marker, the assistant cashier of the First National bank, who, it is alleged, embezzled more than $100,000 of the bank's funds, returned here early today.

Marker's family and friends at once gathered about him. On the advice of his attorneys neither he nor his brother, William H. Marker, until lately cashier of the bank, would discuss the allegations of the alleged defalcation. Noah Marker would only say he had been in St. Louis.

A crowd of townspeople assembled at his home and he held a reception on his porch. Friends and acquaintances shook hands with him and congratulated him on his return. Many business men assured him of their support.

Marker welcomed the coming of the United States authorities.

Tribunes Sold Daily at Seattle Fair by Special Newsboys

"Uxtry, sir? Latest edition of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE," and up and down the big exposition grounds at Seattle the "greatest afternoon paper on the Pacific Coast" is being widely circulated each day by three newsboys who have been specially detailed by the local office to get the news into the fair grounds every day, rain or shine and regardless of expense.

Each evening the big, up-to-date local paper is loaded on the Seattle train still damp from the pressure of the mighty Duplex presses and sent whizzing over miles of steel track as fast as modern conveniences can carry them, straight to the fair grounds. "Oaklanders here are mighty glad to see THE TRIBUNE," writes A. E. Wagner, a seasoned carrier who has been in THE TRIBUNE service for six years, and who is at the head of the small army of three from the seat of festivities.

The boys will remain throughout the exposition and until the last visitor in the north returns home THE TRIBUNE will be freely circulated among the fair-goers, carrying its message of news and events of interest from "home," whether it be in Africa, Mexico or here within the boundaries of the United States. The paper's exhaustive telegraph service keeps in touch with every part of the globe hourly and the news service in Oakland, and in fact, in every city of prominence in the State, is handled directly by an efficient corps of reporters expert in their various lines, the whole forming one of the largest staffs employed on any afternoon paper in the west.

was also a diminution on timber from 1 cent per cubic foot to one-half of one cent and on sawed boards of white wood and kiln-dried woods from $1 per thousand to 50 cents per thousand. The reduction in the differential rates in favor of the Dingley rate. Paving posts, railroad ties and telephone poles are reduced from 20 to 10 per cent ad valorem. Shingles from $1.50 per thousand to $1.25; lathes from 25 cents to 20 cents per thousand, while fence posts and kindling wood were placed on the free list.

Change in Sugar
The only change in the sugar schedule consisted of a reduction of five hundredths of a cent in the differential on refined sugar.

In agricultural products broom corn was taken from the free list and made dutiable at $3 per ton. Hops are increased from 12 to 15 cents per pound. There are also increases on lemons, figs, almonds, pineapples and cherry root. The reductions in the agricultural schedule covered bacon and lard from 5 to 4 cents per pound, lard from 2 to 1 1/2 cents, fresh meats from 2 to 1 1/2 cents and starch from 1 1/2 to 1 cent per pound. Tallow, wool dextrin, peas, sugar beets, cabbages and salt were also lowered.

Lumber Schedule
In the lumber schedule the only increases were those on shingles from 30 cents to 60 cents per thousand, and on briar wood and laurel wood for the use of pipe makers from the free list to 15 per cent ad valorem. The rate on sawed lumber was decreased from $2 per thousand to $1.25 per thousand. There

Increase on Liquor
The wine and liquor schedule was increased to 15 per cent under the Dingley rates.

Fireworks Higher
Fireworks are increased from 20 per cent ad valorem to 35 cents per pound; working apparel made of fur from 30 to 50 per cent, and the higher class jewelry from 60 per cent to 80 per cent ad valorem. Pencil lead is given specific rates instead of ad valorem rates with a slight increase. For the first time moving picture films are named, specifically in a tariff law.

The bill gives them a protective rate of 1 1/2 cents per foot. Petroleum, crude and refined, including kerosene, gasoline, naphtha, benzine and similar petroleum products are made free of duty and left over without a countervailing duty.

The Dingley rates on women's and children's gloves are allowed to stand. The only change is a reduction on "Soliman" gloves not over 14 inches in length, on which the rate is made $1.75 a dozen pairs, instead of $1.75.

CONFEREES LOOK OVER THEIR WORK

WASHINGTON, July 30.—As a final act of caution the tariff conferees assembled early today and reviewed their work. They desired to make certain that in the confusion attending the last few days' sessions mistakes had not crept into the report.

No errors were discovered except a few that did not affect rates. These were corrected easily and before noon it was announced that the Payne-Aldrich bill was in shape for its second voyage through the House and the Senate, this time in the form of a conference report.

The cotton schedule was reconstructed and readjusted to bring the duties up to those collected during the first four years of the operation of the Dingley law and to the rates then collected under that law. Since that time the rates have been lowered, in some cases from 60 to 5 per cent by court decisions. These new rates, Mr. Payne explained, are equivalent to an addition, on the whole, of 3 per cent ad valorem increase over that collected under the present law for last year.

The remaining rates on stockings are the same as under the present law. Hemp is increased from $20 to $22.50 per ton and hackle from $40 to $49 per ton. The cheaper laces remain the same. In the present law, but there is an increase from 60 to 70 per cent on some of the higher priced laces. In this schedule single coarse yarns are reduced from 7 cents to 6 cents per pound and gilt nettings from 25 to 29 per cent ad valorem.

There was a general reduction in carpets and mats. A reduction from 20 to 15 cents is made in hydraulic hose. Cloth, including linoleum, was reduced about one-third. There was practically no change in the wool schedule, but there was a readjustment between tops and yarns and a small decrease on cloths with a cotton warp.

Wood Pulp Free
Mechanically ground wood pulp was exempted from duty and placed on the free list with a provision for a countervailing duty against Canada. The lower grades of printing paper were reduced from $5 to $3.75 per ton and the higher grades from $5 to $3.75. There is an increase on surface coated paper and lithographic prints, including posters and electricals.

Bituminous coal goes down from 67 cents to 45 cents per ton and there are reductions on gun powder, matches and cartridges. Agricultural implements are cut from 20 to 15 per cent ad valorem.

There were placed on the free list, while the rate on bars and rods leather, is reduced from 10 per cent to 9 per cent ad valorem; on dressed leather from 20 per cent to 10 per cent; boots and shoes from 25 per cent to 10 per cent.

Fireworks Higher
Fireworks are increased from 20 per cent ad valorem to 35 cents per pound; working apparel made of fur from 30 to 50 per cent, and the higher class jewelry from 60 per cent to 80 per cent ad valorem. Pencil lead is given specific rates instead of ad valorem rates with a slight increase. For the first time moving picture films are named, specifically in a tariff law.

MICROBES IN THE SCALP

THE LATEST EXPLANATION IS THAT MICROBES CAUSE BALDNESS.

Professor, Anna of Hamburg, Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud of Paris, France, share the honor of having discovered the hair microbe.

Baldness is not caused through a few weeks' work of these hair microbes, but is the result of conditions brought about by their presence. Baldness may not occur until years after the microbes began work, but it is certain to come sooner or later.

The microbes cut off the blood supply. They feed on the fatty matter about the root of the hair, through which the blood is absorbed. Finally the fatty matter is wholly consumed, the food supply of the hair is gone and it starves and finally dies.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers; Bata Naphthol is both germicidal and antiseptic. Eucalyptol, though not a dye, restores natural color to hair when loss of color was caused by disease. These curatives properly mixed with alcohol as a stimulant, perfect a remedy unequalled for curing scalp and hair troubles.

We want every one who has any scalp or hair trouble to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, which contains all these ingredients. If it does not grow hair on your bald head, stop your hair from falling out, cure your dandruff, make your hair thick, silky, luxuriant, if it does not give you complete satisfaction in every particular, return the empty bottle to us, and we shall return every penny you paid us for it, without question or formality.

Of course, you understand that when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, we do not refer to cases where the roots are entirely dead, the pores of the scalp closed, and the hair bald. In cases like this there is no hope. In all other cases of baldness Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will positively grow hair, or cost the user nothing. ## COUPLE SILENT FOR TEN YEARS

James Wyvell and Wife Break Truce by Quarrel; Divorce Follows

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—A ten years' silence between Hattie B. Wyvell and James Wyvell, man and wife, was terminated in 1907, by a violent quarrel that broke up the Quaker-like home. Mrs. Wyvell testified in the trial of her divorce suit before Judge Van Nostrand yesterday. She and her husband stopped speaking to one another in 1897, she said. This was about the time of the birth of their daughter, Pearl, who is now 12 years old. All communication between Wyvell and his wife was had through the three children.

Two years ago Wyvell broke out in a fierce rage against his wife with whom he had not words in a decade. Breaking the long silence in a furious tone he ordered her to leave the house. "Get out of here or else there will be trouble," he is alleged to have said. "Either you get out or I will. You better go and keep away from me." This happened in Los Angeles, where Wyvell is in the real estate business. Mrs. Wyvell came to San Francisco and has since lived here. The story of the long truce of silence and of the quarrel which ended it, was told by both Mrs. Wyvell and her son, Bob Wyvell, who is now 10 years old. Mrs. Wyvell, who is the only child under age, was awarded the custody of the mother by Judge Van Nostrand, who granted a divorce on the ground of desertion.

Divorces were granted as follows yesterday: By Judge Trout—Amy Harriman to Robin Hay, desertion; Mary Burke to Hans Burke, willful neglect.

HARRIMAN TO ENGINEER MERGER

Southern Pacific and N. Y. Central to Be in One Great System

RUMOR IS REVIVED BY RISE IN STOCK

Health of Railway Magnate to Hasten Gigantic Combination

NEW YORK, July 30.—The steady advance of New York Central stock, reaching 140 yesterday, coupled with the high water mark of $200 for Union Pacific, has revived the story of a gigantic merger soon to come that will embrace the New York Central, Chicago and Northwestern and Union and Southern Pacific railroads in one vast system.

This merger has been freely predicted ever since Harriman entered the New York Central directorate, and inasmuch as a transcontinental system has been the great ambition of Harriman's life, it has been often guessed in Wall Street that the merger is sure to come sooner or later to crown Harriman's life work.

To Hasten Merger

It is believed, too, that the state of Harriman's health, instead of delaying the formation of the merger, will hasten it, and that after a brief term at the head of the new corporation Harriman will retire from active railroad.

A Wall Street expert, writing of the gossip in railroad circles here yesterday, says: "New York Central stock is being made active in preparation for purchase by the New York Central of the control of the Southern Pacific, after which control of the New York Central will undoubtedly be put into the hands of Harriman. That is the plan of the Harriman party at present, and will be changed only in some minor details if at all. Control of the Chicago and Northwestern may be put into the hands of Harriman. It is idle to speculate on the matter at present, because official announcement seems so near at hand. Harriman is delaying announcement of his financial plans only because of the crops. Present prospects are splendid, but he wants a little more time to let the crops mature."

Cause of Delay

The delay in announcing the Harriman plan is justified also because of the delay of congress in dealing with the new tariff. The Herald says: "It was reported that there was buying of New York Central yesterday for a bull pool operating on a theory that Harriman is planning to make the road the eastern outlet for a transcontinental line connecting through the Illinois Central with the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific."

Concentrate Capital

The Tribune says it is the understanding of certain Wall Street houses that the Union Pacific's sale of $50,000,000 worth of stock in other railroads during the last month is for the purpose of concentrating its outside investment capital in two chief connections, viz: New York Central and Illinois Central, which will be solidified in the Harriman coast to coast system.

TRADES COUNCIL ELECTS HOLLIS

Chosen Secretary-Treasurer Over J. E. McDougald in Hot Contest

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—In one of the hottest contests ever held by the Building Trades Council, John E. McDougald, city treasurer, was defeated for the office of secretary-treasurer by A. J. Hollis last night. McDougald has been secretary-treasurer of the Council for twelve years.

When the word went around, that Hollis was putting forth a strong effort to defeat McDougald, his friends rallied to his support and waged a strenuous fight. Hollis received the support of P. H. McCarthy and was carried into office by a vote of 137 to 100.

The only other contest was over the three business agents, Walter E. O'Connell, Charles A. Nelson, F. G. McDougald and H. D. Bleg entered the race. The first three were elected. The other officers and committees chosen were: President, P. H. McCarthy; vice-president, John Coedfeld; recording and corresponding secretary, O. A. Twilumore; sergeant-at-arms, W. H. Hurry; trustees, John A. Hogan, T. C. Lynch, Oscar Frederickson, W. W. Freedland, William Miskel; legislative committee, J. J. Kingston, L. B. Regan, E. B. Morton, John Coedfeld, L. Flaherty; organization committee, A. Johansson, Thomas Doyle, W. H. McDougald, William Simpson and J. J. Monahan.

BULLARD ABSENT TOO LONG FROM HIS JOB

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Health Commissioner E. D. Bullard, another member of Mayor Taylor's official family, has been more than the legal sixty days outside the bounds of the State, and according to the ruling laid down by the Mayor himself in the recent case of Park Commissioner Kirkpatrick, has by his own act severed his connection with the municipal government.

"No, I have not seen any communication to the Board of Health in regard to Commissioner Bullard's absence," said Mayor Taylor yesterday.

Bullard left the State in April and is consequently several weeks behind time in returning to the duties of his commission.

AFTER FOUR YEARS OF MISERY

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, terrible dragging sensations, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Then I felt as though new life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends."—Mrs. W. S. Ford, 1038 Lansdowne St., Baltimore, Md.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and to-day is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed.

If you are suffering from any of these ailments, don't give up hope until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has guided thousands to health, free of charge.

BASEBALL FANS MOURN FOR DEATH OF PULLIAM

COAST LEAGUE IS TAKING STERN MEASURES TO PUT STOP TO THE GAMBLING EVIL

JOHN HEYDLER OR GARRY HERRMANN WILL BE THE NEXT NATIONAL LEAGUE
PRESIDENT, IS THE GENERAL BELIEF

"Betting at Ball Games Must Stop," Declares President Ewing—Senators Take Measure of Pennant Chasers

By HERMAN F. BUDDE.

HARRY C. PULLIAM's unfortunate death and the incidents surrounding his untimely ending shocked his legion of friends on the coast like a thunderbolt out of the clear sky. It was as unexpected as sad. To those who know the National League president, his genial nature, his devotedness to clean and honest baseball, and his ambition to smooth all the ripples that often prevented perfect harmony in the national pastime, the rash act that robbed his body of life was a blow as severe as if a near and dear relative had been stricken down by the scythe of the grim reaper. No leader ever did more to uplift baseball and none ever had to work under more trying conditions. Entering the arena at a time when the call to arms was heard in every field where recruits are known to gather around the diamond, his was a struggle to make order of chaos and peace out of war. He succeeded, and since 1923, the year he became the head of the National League, it has prospered to this day, every year improving its foundations and placing baseball on a more substantial footing.

Send Message of Condolence

In behalf of the Pacific Coast League and as a mark of the esteem in which he was held on the coast, President J. Cal Ewing yesterday sent a message of condolence to Secretary John Heyler of the National Commission. Ewing also ordered all the flags on the different parks throughout the circuit to be lowered to half-mast until after the funeral. The telegram of condolence is as follows:

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29, 1930.—John A. Heydler, Secretary National League, St. James building, New York: News of the death of Harry C. Pulliam received with sorrow all over the coast. Baseball has lost one of its staunchest and most fearless champions of clean sport. The baseball world will miss his guiding hand. His sterling character will be impressed upon the game for all time. Please express our condolence to family.

J. CAL EWING, President Pacific Coast League.

There is a good deal of speculation as to who will be successor to Pulliam. John A. Heydler, secretary and treasurer of the National League, stands high among the magnates of the East, but there is a probability that the post will fall to Garry Herrmann, who is at present sojourning in Yellowstone Park. In the interim Heydler, who has been managing the organization ever since Pulliam's ill health last year, will be temporary president.

Police Arrest Gambler Suspects

Gambling at baseball games must be stopped! Is the ultimatum from President J. Cal Ewing. In accordance with this announcement two Pinkerton detectives were sent to the bleachers with orders to mingle with the bettors and capture the ringleaders. Towards the end of the game yesterday the sleuths had Albert Houston and John Newlands, claimed to be the principal offenders, arrested. They were charged at the Mission police station with violating section 337A of the penal code and released on $50 bail. President Ewing is confident that he has sufficient evidence against the two men, for he states that they were seen making a bet by the two plain clothesmen, passing the money between them.

Though every encouragement must be given the crusade to exterminate the gambling evil at baseball games, it must be admitted that the Coast League officials have been somewhat slow in their reform measure. When wagers started on an extensive scale at Recreation Park soon after the close of the racing season, and thousands of dollars changed hands every day, the seriousness and harmfulness of betting was brought out in the columns of THE TRIBUNE, but little or no notice was paid to the warning. Now that the evil has taken root and has spread its infection far and wide, its eradication will be found ten times more difficult. The adage, "It is much easier to prevent than to cure," is just as true of gambling as of sickness. If stern measures had been adopted three months ago to put an end to gambling, its success would be found much easier than now.

But crying over spilt milk will not bring anything. Much can be done now towards putting the crusher on gambling, and it is only to be hoped that those steps will be taken. It would be a shame to allow the gamblers to get ball players with bribes to throw games. Baseball must be kept pure and unsullied. It is America's national sport and the greatest game on earth. Nick Williams, the "Pinch" Hitter

If San Francisco had many more men like "Pinch-Hitter" Nick Williams even yesterday's game would have been pulled out of the fire. As it was, "Biondie" is responsible for the three runs made by the Seals. In the fifth inning Biondie had a chance to be a hero, but he passed the buck to the popular Nick and he accepted the gauntlet. Getting his lanterns on a ball that suited him, he flogged it to the right garden just out of the reach of Hildebrand. Before it was returned to the infield throw of the San Franciscans had crossed the rubber. It was a beautiful knock and came nearly undoing the afternoon work of the Lawmakers. Luckily for Charley Graham, "Chick" Gandil found a technicality in the twisting of Eastley, and in the sixth round, when he came to bat, whipped out his third hit against the right field fence, scoring a moment later on Indian House's drive past second. Had it not been for the Sacramento first baseman the Senators would now be wearing ashes instead of laurels. It was he who, in the third round, brought in two Sacramentans with a juicy wallop to the fence boards. The first tally was donated the Aristocrats. Jansing walked, stole second and on Berry's wild heave to Zeider reached third, coming in home a moment later on a fly-out.

Gandil Gets Three Hits

Well as Gandil batted, getting three of the seven hits and participating in three of the four runs, it was he who touched off the fireworks resulting in the runs for San Francisco. One man was already frozen stiff and Fitzgerald was in the act of chilling another when "Chick" made a mess of an easy throw to first. Encouraged by the bad error, Zeider immediately beat out an infield grounder and Mundorff followed with a safe butt. Eastley was forced at the plate when Bodie knocked to the pitcher. Not discouraged by Ping's unsuccessful trip to the rubber, Nick Williams knocked the deuce out of the ball and Sacramento, Gandil and Fitzgerald had to pay for it. On another occasion Gandil threw cold water on a batting rally when he allowed himself to be thrown out at second by Berry while playing off the bag. There was a runner at third at the time, but the whole trick was accomplished so speedily that the put-out was made without permitting a run.

All eyes are at present turned on the San Francisco left fielder. Jim Williams is clouting the ball as he has never done before. In the three games against the Senators he has driven the leather to safe territory eight times out of ten trips to the bat, or making an average of .800. Yesterday his first three journeys to the plate brought singles and on the other occasion he was accorded free transportation to the initial bag. If Jim keeps this swatting up much longer he will be the idol of the hour.

That the hit and run play can have as disastrous an ending as the squeeze and other inside baseball performances was demonstrated pretty clearly yesterday when Sacramento was at the bat in the fifth inning. House was on first and Jansing up when the signal was given for the Indian to run on the next pitched ball. The curve came wide, but Jansing clouted it just the same, and a pop fly right into the hands of McArdle, who threw to first, completed a double without a bit of trouble.

For the first time this season San Francisco's line-up is shattered by sickness and injuries. Tom Tennant and Kid Mohler, Jim Williams and Jim Lewis and Pitcher Willis are all on the sick list. Willis has been sent by Danny Wong to Harbin Springs. Williams is only playing because he has to. Even "Cack" Henley is complaining of a sore arm.

Vernon is trying to land Third Baseman Curtis, who is now playing with "Tub" Hackett's Sacramento team, and Manager Hogan has wired President Ewing asking if he will permit his return. Rumor also has it that Hogan wants Wild Bill Devereaux.

The Athenians are all in mourning. "Slim" Nelson's father, who has been a devoted fan of baseball in Oakland for twenty-four years, passed away yesterday at Pablo. Though he had been critically ill for some time death was not expected, and only Wednesday "Slim" left here for Portland to join his team mates. Upon receiving word of the death of his father, Harry took the next train in Oregon for California.

Jim Wiggs Stops Winning Streak of Webfooters

PORTLAND, July 30.— took the mighty Jimmy Wiggs to stop the winning streak of the Webfooters, and by was equal to the occasion by letting the Ducks off with but two hits and striking out eleven. Only in the sixth inning did Portland score, when Olsen hit safely and registered on McCredie's out to first.

Oakland's first two runs came after there were two outs. Cameron was called safe at home on a close decision and a moment later Quigley circled the bases and reached first on a hit through the left fielder's legs. Olsen then played, coming in home on "sal Lewis" bunt. Wiggs hit to center, forcing Quigley. The third tally happened in the eighth, when Carroll singled, stole second and smacked broun home by Duffey Lewis.

POWELL-HUDSON BATTLE COMES OFF TONIGHT

THREE CONTESTS BETWEEN MEN WHO ARE WELL MATCHED ON TAP AT DREAMLAND

SIX CLASSY LIGHTWEIGHTS MAKE UP LERCARI'S BATTLES

Men Have Trained Hard and Are in Good Condition—Cove Shows Right Kind of Confidence in Match With Attell.

By EDDIE SMITH.

SOME people call him "Carlo the great," others—well, anyway he looks as if he is well fed, and that means that he is called to the supper table. At any rate Carlo (meaning Charlie Lercari) has arranged a series of boxing contests for his show that will be pulled off tonight that looks better than any exhibition he has put on since he entered the promotion game. Lercari has been either very foolish or very unfortunate in securing fighters for his cards, and some of the fans have become tired of his efforts. Carlo always tries for the impossible, and the result is that he knows the Waterloo game from start to finish; he's used to it. For once in his life Lercari did not try to match a big star event right up to within a few days of the date for his fights, but has devoted his time to the signing of boxers who, while not the largest constellations, are of a caliber that will put up a classy fight.

The boxing show of tonight will in all probability be productive of some of the keenest sort of milling, for the men are all so well matched and placed that a losing battle would mean a trip to pugilistic oblivion for the time being, at least. Lew Powell has never in his life as a pugilist been so near to the gates of fame, and to take a back step at this moment would almost mean ruin for the ex-amateur champion of America. This condition is the same with Chick Hudson, who will oppose him, for never before in his life has the Seattle fighter received the boosting he has since coming to San Francisco, and never before has he been given the honor of a main event in a city of the size of San Francisco.

On Watch For Greater "Stars"

Both these boys are on the lookout for a match with the higher ups of the lightweight class, and each has an idea soundly impressed on his mind that he will be the next lightweight champion. Had it not been that Lew Powell is from the bottom of the ladder in San Francisco, and has fought there so often that people have come to look upon him as a sort of utility man, he would be heralded as a very clever fellow and a great fighter, but he has fought so often for the enjoyment of the local fans that he does not get his just credits.

Hudson is not the stale card that Powell is, and if he can beat the clever local man he will be given matches right here in San Francisco.

With Powell it is different; he must go away for a time and show the outside world that he can fight, then he can come home and command a chance at the best men of his class. The contest will be between a pair of fighters who do a bit too much holding with one hand while they try to hit with the other, and unless the referee acts bravely and works hard the battle may prove one in which the holding will mar the spectacular end of the milling.

Clifford and Harrison Possess Punch

In the special event two men are to meet who have shown in previous battles that they are the possessors of a punch, but who are somewhat handicapped in the landing of the sleep producer at the proper time. Clifford is a great fighter, and in a contest with Harrison should put up one great battle. He is not the gamest man in the world when facing big men, but like many another fighter, he is a lightning striker when opposing an under dog. In the case of Harrison, Clifford thinks he is a cinch, and for that reason will be at him from the tap of the bell.

Harrison has been winning fights of late by the knockout route himself, and is as confident that he will beat Clifford as it is possible for a ring performer to be, and to back this feeling up he has offered to wager the losing end of the purse money that he will win, a thing that means he will get nothing if he loses.

In the preliminary Tona Silva, even though he was beaten by Dick Wheeler, will oppose Roscoe Taylor in a bout of ten rounds or less. Powell, Clifford and Taylor are the favorites with the bettors, all three selling at odds of 10 to 8 and 10 to 7. Sol Levinson will referee all the contests.

Cove Matched With Monte Attell

The one fighter who has been so anxious to get on in a championship bout that he would be willing to fight, winner take all, if necessary, for his training expenses, win, lose or draw, is Percy Cove, the Seattle bantam-weight, and he has at last landed a chance at the champion of his class and will appear with Monte Attell in the 20-round preliminary to the Hyland-Frayne bout. Cove will receive just enough money to cover his training expenses, Attell getting all the money for allowing the new-comer a chance at the championship. It seems like an unfair match, but it bespeaks great confidence on the part of Cove, for had he the least idea that he would not win he would not be willing to take such a chance with the clever champion. "All I want is that championship and the chance to show the people what I can do," says Cove. "When I landed in Philadelphia I asked the club managers to match me, but they held me off the same way the local promoters have, until one day I went to a certain promoter and told him I would take any bantam-weight he could find, and if I did not have the better of the contest he need not give me one cent. I beat that man, and got lots of work about Philadelphia, and that is why I am willing to go on with Attell for almost nothing. I know that I will make good."

Tommy Burns has now drawn the color line, and says that he will not fight Sam Langford in England for Hugh McIntosh. "Too Much Johnson" has done for Tommy, and if he ever tackled Langford the playwright would have a chance to fix up a "Too Much Langford" farce-comedy.

The Superior Court judges of Seattle refuse to issue a restraining order preventing the sheriff from stopping the Kaufman-Roller so-called fight. The sheriff should be arrested for calling that match a fight, for it is dollars to doughnuts that the men would hardly muss each other's hair. Roller is not the man to go on in a real fight with Kaufman, with such little financial inducements offered.

Johnson says that Jeffries will not fight. "He's bluffing," says Jack. Johnson has now the opportunity of a lifetime, for he has only to run over to New York and cover the forfeit money and then ask the big fellow to sign articles. Let Mr. Johnson do that, and then we will all know whether or not Jeffries is bluffing.

The Oakland Wheelmen have arranged things in such a manner that they will be able to have a ten-round bout as their main event next month, and Monte Attell and Jimmy Reagan will therefore go ten rounds instead of six, as has been the custom.

Joe McGurn and Johnnie O'Keefe have been signed to go on in the special event. The card so far looks well, and if the Wheelmen keep up the good work they will wind up with an excellent attraction.

Jeffries Has Operation On Neck; $10,000 Side Bet Will Not Stop Bout

NEW YORK, July 30.—James J. Jeffries, the heavyweight boxer, did not appear yesterday in the benefit for crippled children at the Polo Grounds because he was operated on the preceding night for an abscess that had been adding to the worries of the former champion.

This abscess was a boil that had been enlarged," said Jeffries. "You know that even a boil on a strong man's neck is often very troublesome. I confess that I weigh 235 pounds now, but I will be ready for Jack Johnson or any other challenger I will be here until August 5 before my European trip."

Jeffries was asked if the $10,000 side bet that he had insisted upon would prevent a championship fight with Johnson in the event of the colored boxer refusing to post a forfeit. "No," said the Californian, "but do you not think it would be a better guarantee to the public to have a wager made? I posted my forfeit knowing my own condition."

Edwards and Wood Set Course Record in Golf

FLOESMOOR, Ill., July 30.—The course record was broken twice yesterday in the fourth day's play of the Western amateur golf championship at the Homewood Country Club.

Kenneth F. Edwards of Midlothian, playing against Robert A. Gardner of Hinsdale, in the third round of the championship fight, turned in a seventy. Warren K. Wood of Homewood played in the eighteen-hole round for the consolation flight and duplicated Edwards' sensational performance.

Edwards finished seven up on Gardner on the eighteen holes of the morning round. The third round resulted as follows: Kenneth F. Edwards, Midlothian, defeated Robert A. Gardner, Hinsdale, 6 up and 5 to play.

Albert Seckel, Riverside, defeated D. E. Sawyer, Wheaton, 4 up and 3 to play. Charles Evans Jr., Exmoor, defeated Lee Maxwell, Hinsdale, 3 up and 2 to play.

Paul Hunter, Midlothian, defeated Robert Hoagland, Riverside, 3 up and 1 to play.

Misses Hotchkiss and Ryan Capture Doubles

VICTORIA, B. C., July 30.—The feature of yesterday morning's play in the tennis tournament was a match between A. T. Edwards, a former local champion and Hooper of Los Angeles, won by Edwards, 2-6, 1-4, 6-4. Tyler of Spokane beat Andrews, 6-0, 6-2. Cardinal beat Juker, 6-4, 6-2. Miss Hotchkiss and Miss Ryan beat Miss Hobson and Miss Gillespie, 6-3, 6-0.

Chicago National League Club Owned by C. Taft

Baseball is made by the newspaper, Charles P. Taft, the owner of the Chicago National League club, John L. Taylor, owner of the Chicago Globe and the Red Sox; Tom Noyes owns the Washington Stars and the club that holds down eighth place in the American. Mr. Noyes is the owner of the Chicago Record-Herald. In Philadelphia two newspapers have taken stock in the Athletics.

Newport Tennis Tourney

NEW YORK, July 30.—The National Lawn Tennis Association announced last night that the national championship tournament at Newport, L. I., beginning on August 17, will open with the doubles challenge match. Frederick B. Alexander and H. H. Hackett, holders, will defend against the winning pair of the Chicago team, in which Southern, Pacific and Western champion pairs compete.

All entries must be in on or before Saturday, August 14.

Ed Reuback, Nearly 'Canned' by Chance, Is Twirling Great Ball

Now it is Edward Reuback, a St. Louis product, who is starring as the country's leading twirler. This season, more than ever before, the fingers have had the distinction of putting together numerous runs of successive victories. Sometimes the pitchers have been benefited by their mates piling up large scores. "But with Reuback it has been different."

The St. Louis boy got off boggedly poor, for a start, the Cardinals (timed him). Then he gained a triumph over the Reds. In turn, though, the Pirates, Cardinals and Phillies took walks at him. Big Ed was both unsteady and wild.

Finally Commander Chance, as well as Big Chief Murphy, became disgusted with Reuback. It was on the cards for him to be swapped. Anything that would have looked reasonable would have been taken for Reuback. But no one seemed to want him.

Reuback's record to date is nine victories and four defeats, with eight of the triumphs in a row. Since May 21, he has won in great fashion, defeating the Cardinals and Phillies twice in the series, Superbas, Reds, Pirates—twice in the series, Superbas, and then over the Giants.

Reuback started off wild as a March hare, giving 30 free bits of transportation in his first five games, which totaled up but 32-23 innings. Since then, though, he has issued but 36 walks.

Athletics Win 2 Games; New York Defeats Detroit

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

NATIONAL LEAGUE, AMERICAN LEAGUE.

NEW YORK, July 30.—New York defeated Detroit yesterday. Biggie and Cobb knocked out Detroit. Score: N. Y. 10, Detroit 0.

Philadelphia, July 30.—Cleveland lost both games to the Athletics yesterday. Score: First game—P. 10, C. 0. Second game—P. 10, C. 0.

O'Brien and Flynn May Box at Denver

DENVER, July 30.—"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien and Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, may or may not meet in a six-round contest in the Auditorium tonight. If they do meet it will be without a referee, and no decision will be given.

The Christian Citizenship Union is still making an active fight to prevent the contest, but so far as the city authorities are concerned, there will be no interference.

At Governor Shafer's office it was stated that "conference" was still under way and until both sides are heard, the Governor will not decide whether or not the State should interfere.

"Prize fight at the Auditorium? There will be no fight there. It is to be an exhibition. An exhibition without a decision, and no purse is hung up," said a city official this morning.

As the official's considerable as if about such things, it looks as if the bout may come off.

Postponed Bicycle Races To Be Held in Alameda

The date has been finally set for the bicycle race that was postponed at Alameda since the 4th of July. It will be pulled off on August 1st, and permission has been obtained by the Alameda city fathers to hold the contest on the streets, as was planned on Independence Day. Representatives of eight clubs will be in the race and the winners' prizes worth $200. The club winning the five-mile relay will be awarded a handsome trophy.

The Alameda Wheelmen have installed the following new officers: President, R. Werner; vice-president, P. J. Foster; secretary-treasurer, J. Peterson; captain, E. Armbruster. Directors of the club that were installed last night were W. T. Sebell, E. O. Pitzman, J. P. Weinstein, J. Foster and E. Armbruster.

'Buck' Franks Loses Job As Captain of Omahas

OMAHA, Neb., July 30.—Captain Buck Franks, who for three years played shortstop and directed the Omaha baseball team in field play, was yesterday relieved of his duties as captain. Franks, who in the future will personally direct the players from the bench, Franks has been released and did not appear for the game yesterday.

Franks was formerly with the Oakland Coast League and it is reported that he may return to one of it clubs in the league.

Pitcher George Jenkins Joins Alameda Alerts

The Alameda Alerts have been strengthened with Pitcher George Jenkins, formerly of the Fruitvale club, who has agreed to Manager Gilpin's terms. Jenkins, right fielder for the Alerts, goes to the Fruitvals, as a result of the trade.

Ever since Mackie left the Alameda Alerts, upon whom has fallen the burden of twirling, and in Jenkins the Alerts believe they have a man who will be there "with the goods."

FLANAGAN! GUESS THE BEST

OAKLANDERS ARE ENJOYING THE FAIR

Commissioner Walker Tells of Conditions in California Building at Seattle

The following letter from Webber Walker, secretary of the Oakland Merchants' Exchange, who is now in Seattle in attendance upon the Alaska-Yukon fair, as a member of the Alameda county general exposition commission, the other members of which are Theo. Gier and J. P. Miller, regarding the exposition and the attention which it is receiving from people in this county, has been received by THE TRIBUNE:

"Seattle is crowded with visitors and the attendance at the fair is larger than was expected. We are registering an average of three hundred Californians daily at the California building. Among the more recent arrivals from Alameda county are the following: Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Capwell, J. P. Miller and Miss Trevor, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Bangham, Judge and Mrs. Frank San Leandro, Judge Ellsworth of Alameda and many others.

Admirers Numerous.

"The California building and its contents are especially admired. The collection is famous for its variety and beauty and is the best State collection on the grounds.

"Fifty-six people are in the California building representing the Golden State, including three from Alameda county to whom we expect Commissioners Gier and Miller tomorrow from California, when we shall have a full band.

"The weather, which was cold and rainy during June and the first half of July, is now sunny—at least as sunny as it ever gets in this locality. It has rained only twice since Walker and myself arrived on July 17, which is quite a dry spell for the northwest.

"There is a good opening for a few really first-class restaurants in this city. The hotel and first-class and up-to-date, but the eating houses make up in quantity what they lack in quality.

"Seattle is a well-lighted and well-paved city and the streets are kept clean. Many thoroughfares are paved with vitrified brick which has been thoroughly tested before laying. Some of the streets were paved with brick as early as 1893 and are still in good condition. They are washed with a patent flusher twice a day and are kept almost as clean as the sidewalks.

"A United City
It was to you in May regarding the garbage incinerator, so I can simply say I wish we had a similar incinerator in operation in Oakland.

"Greater Seattle is happy in one respect. She is one united city and the city directory is not compiled on the installment plan as they have compiled the suburbs into one city, viz., Seattle.

"The water front of Seattle is a strange sight to Californians. Instead of the harbor being crowded with vessels at anchor, as in Oakland and San Francisco, there are almost no vessels except at the wharves. The depth of water is so great that vessels do not, as a rule, try to anchor, but go immediately to the water front. As nearly as I can learn, the water front is owned by the corporations and not by the people, which is, and will be an unfortunate state of affairs.

"The Californians who have come to the State of Washington to engage in business are very loyal to their native State and lose no opportunity to sing her praises.

"Proud of California
It is a great gratification to them that the Golden State has such a fine building and such a magnificent exhibit. The county of Alameda is making no mistake in installing its quota of receiving some magnificent fine fruit from the California nursery at Niles for which the commission returns thanks. Today some elegant peaches, plums and apricots arrived, which were placed in the front row. We are having a fine time, nevertheless, we shall be glad to return to dear old Oakland."

"GAME WARDENS ARE ACCUSED OF PARTIALITY
STOCKTON, July 30.—Much complaint is being made against what is termed partiality on the part of Deputy Warden Jewell and Buell of the fish and game commission. Recently the San Joaquin river burst its banks and inundated district No. 17. Later an excavation was made in the river bed, and enough to flow the water back into the San Joaquin.

"It is now reported that illegal nets have been in use at the outlet of the district and that thousands of fish have been caught by those who are said to have been favored by the local officials.

Baron Uchida to Succeed Takahira As Ambassador

F. UCHIDA.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Baron Uchida, who has been appointed to succeed Takahira as the new Japanese ambassador to the United States, is well known in Washington, having been connected with the Japanese Embassy several years ago. He is a graduate of Harvard University and during his long political career has made an enviable record both here and in his native country. He was a special friend and had a strong personal friendship with the late President Roosevelt, and is said to stand high with the present administration.

MUSICIANS HAVE GAY TIME AT A PICNIC

The annual musical festival and picnic given by musicians' union, local No. 6, at Shell Mound Park yesterday afternoon and evening, was a successful affair. Amusements galore were provided in addition to the customary games and sports. A special feature was several hours of concert music by an orchestra directed by some of San Francisco's most distinguished composers, including Paul Steinbock, Alfred Ronchetti, Dr. H. J. Stewart, Frederick Zech, Charles H. Cassano and George H. Bennett.

A band of fifty players furnished music for the dances, which were continued throughout the day. Prizes were awarded for the winning contestants in the games and at the gates.

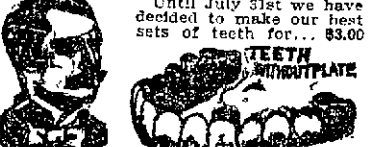

The picnic was well attended. The proceeds will be devoted to fund for the sick and needy members of the order.

SANTA FE ORDERS BIG LOCOMOTIVES

Four Gigantic Engines to Be Used For Raton Hill Grades

CHICAGO, July 30.—The four largest locomotives ever ordered by the Santa Fe Railway are included in an order for just been placed by the company to fill out its passenger train service. The four engines will be of the Mallet compound type, possessing two sets of drivers, and will be among the most powerful locomotives in existence.

Two of them are designed for freight hauling, and the other two for a shorter wheel base, are for passenger trains. These powerful locomotives are to supply the motive power for the grades on Raton hill, the steepest portion of the Santa Fe's lines, where the grade reaches a maximum of four per cent. In addition to the four compound engines, the order includes eighteen large Atlantic type passenger engines.

The Santa Fe has decided to equip all of its through trains with a vapor steam system of heating. This plan was tried out on the California Limited, and proved so satisfactory that its use will be extended.

EX-WIFE WANTS TO REOPEN SUIT

Mrs. Florence Howard Charges Former Husband With Fraud and Deceit

RENO, Nev., July 30.—In an affidavit filed with sensational matter and alleging fraud and deceit on the part of her former husband, Mrs. Florence Howard yesterday filed in the district court a motion to have the divorce action brought by her husband, Roy Howard, reopened, by default and judgment set aside, and to have the case tried on its merits.

Mrs. Howard is a resident of San Francisco, and has been for the last two months, before which time she resided at San Diego. Her husband is a resident of San Diego, and Mrs. Howard alleges that he is possessed of community property, consisting of cash and real estate, of the value of $30,000 and an income of $500 a month. Mrs. Howard says she was not apprised of the pendency of her husband's suit, although she was in verbal and written communication with him up to a short time of the date the decree was granted, which was on February 6. An affidavit was made by counsel for Howard that he mailed a copy of the complaint and summons to the Van Nuys Hotel, Los Angeles, at which place Howard stated his wife last resided.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

The cause of all skin diseases can be traced to some humor or acid in the blood; the outside is always healthy where the circulation is free from impurities. When the blood is infected with acid or unhealthy matter it cannot perform its natural work of nourishing the skin, regulating its temperature and preserving its normal softness, flexibility and healthfulness. Instead it irritates and inflames the delicate fibers and tissues around the pores and glands and produces some of the many forms of skin disease. The itching and stinging so often accompanying skin affections are produced by the deposit from the blood of the acid humors with which it is filled, and surrounding the countless nerves, pores and glands. This explains why S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every character by purifying the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors or acids which are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acid blood, and permanently cures every variety of skin affection. Local applications can only soothe; they never cure because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes right into the circulation, reaches the trouble and cures it by removing the cause. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

There's something lacking in every kitchen where there isn't a gas range.

A home isn't modern nor up-to-date without gas, and if you've never used gas you're missing the greatest, cheapest and best convenience of the kitchen work.

You don't have to start to get your meals ready an hour and a half before mealtime when you cook with gas. Your fire is always ready and always right.

If gas weren't so cheap and such a great convenience there wouldn't be so many consumers.

T. C. Coogan Gives His Views on Hawaii
After a Trip of Three Weeks of Sightseeing There.

T. C. Coogan returned recently from a visit to Hawaii. A TRIBUNE reporter met Mr. Coogan yesterday and asked him to tell him something about the trip and his impressions of the islands.
Mr. Coogan replied: "The trip is an enjoyable one. We went down on the Mongolia—a staunch, modern ship she is;
the sea was calm all the way, and the voyage was made without the slightest inconvenience; indeed it was like crossing the bay from Oakland to San Francisco.
"We found Honolulu to be a wide-awake American city. One of the first things to attract my attention shortly after our arrival was a big sign in a store window,
"Lenhardt's Candies." Right across the street was another one—"Gunst Clear Store." I thought I was on Broadway near Fourteenth street.
"The points of interest about the city that are called to the attention of visitors are well worth seeing. Among them is the Aquarium. We have nothing to equal that on this coast. What interested me most, however, was the volcano Haleakala. Any one visiting the islands should see this volcano. Since my return
I have met a few that visited the islands and failed to see it because they were told it was a hard trip from Honolulu.
That might have been correct before the railroad from Hilo was constructed, but now it is not a difficult trip at all. The walk from the hotel, called the Volcano House, to the volcano is not so strenuous as the climb from the campus to Grizzly Peak or from East Oakland to Redwood Peak. I walked both ways.
The stage ride from the terminus of the railroad to the Volcano House impressed me greatly. The road runs through a wealth of tropical vegetation that towers above the stage, and, at times, it looks so dense as to be almost impassable.
The volcano itself, seen at night, as we saw it, is impressive and grand. One can never forget that scene.

People Progressive
"We spent about three weeks in Honolulu. The people are progressive and exceedingly hospitable. They have unbounded confidence in the future of their city and, judging from what I there learned, they are fully warranted in this.
"The Japanese problem and the strike are serious questions and require more careful consideration than I can give them at this interview. Indeed, I am not familiar enough with the situation to make my views of any significance; but I may say, generally, that one is surprised at the number and the activity of the Japanese in the islands. One sees them everywhere he goes, and their presence is especially noticeable in the schools. The majority of the pupils attending the public schools seems to be Japanese. Another thing they are acquiring property there rapidly, some of which is of the most substantial character. To illustrate, the Japanese bank is erecting a building for its banking purposes that is modern in appearance and the equal of any in the city of Honolulu. The strike is conducted by these people in a less boisterous manner than strikes are carried on here, and the leaders seem to have absolute control over the actions of their followers. However, I do not think they will succeed. The planters with whom I talked thought they were correct in their position and seemed determined to maintain it."

Improvement Committee of Council Favors Electroliers on Sixteenth Street

Despite the fact that Mayor Mott and the Board of Public Works have placed the ban on any more electroliers to be maintained at the expense of the city, the Public Improvement Committee of the City Council last night voted to recommend to the council that Sixteenth street, from San Pablo to the bay, be lighted with the ornamental electroliers authorized by Councilman Elliott. This resolution, which was introduced by Councilman Oliver Ellsworth, was prepared by Councilman Elliott, who comes from the Third Ward and has the interests of the West Oakland Improvement Club at heart also.
Councilman Oliver Ellsworth, who also lives in the Third Ward, was opposed to any more electroliers, but stated, however, that if the people of that vicinity wanted the electroliers he would vote for them.
Everhart Votes "Yea"
Councilman Everhart supported the resolution much to the surprise of everyone. He has consistently opposed the installation of more electroliers and when he remarked in committee that the proposed electroliers on Sixteenth street would only cost $1800 to $2000 a month to light, and for that reason he would vote for the resolution, the even of the committee thought he was joking, but when the motion to carry the resolution was put he voted "yea" in the affirmative.
"What is the use," inquired Ellsworth, "of passing a resolution like this? The Board of Works has final say in the matter any way. If it does not grant the necessary permission to erect the electroliers the resolution is valueless. The Mayor has told me that he will not stand for another electrolier because of the enormous expense of lighting."
Councilman Elliott stated that there was a now lamp to be tried which would save the city nearly two-thirds of the cost of maintaining the electroliers providing the claims of the investors were carried out. If this new light be a success, Elliott said that the city could be lighted for about $25,000 a year instead of more than $100,000, and that the city could install many more electroliers. The remainder of the committee agreed with him and suggested that the new burner be investigated.

SEWER BOND ISSUE TO GO BEFORE VOTERS

FITCHBURG, July 30.—Fitchburg and Seminary Park sanitary districts will vote early in September on the question of a bond issue in each of $75,000 for construction of sewer systems.
The sanitary board is composed of A. T. Newth, J. M. Moore, L. J. Grant, J. F. Kingston and T. P. Dunne. Plans for the systems, which were prepared a year ago, are being revised by County Surveyor P. A. Haviland to meet the requirements of increased population.
Prominent property owners in the districts will commence an active campaign for the bonds at once. Should the issue carry, a total of $375,000 will have been voted for sewer construction within a territory about five miles square. Elmhurst, Melrose and Fruitvale recently voted issues totaling $225,000 for sanitary sewer systems.
